Board Begins Advancing Work

Wellsville's School Plans Get Tentative State OK

Conditional approval has been given by the Ohio Board of Education to a proposed $1,107,084 school building program at Wellsville.

The Wellsville Board of Education was officially notified Monday night of the action taken by the state board earlier in the day.

The Wellsville program is included in a priority list of 16 school districts slated to receive $10 million in construction funds from the $250 million bond issue approved at the May 1964 election. The state legislature now must approve release of the remaining $25 million out of an allocation of $35 million.

AFTER LEARNING of the state board's action, the Wellsville board, in session last night, voted to hire Robert Beatty of East Liverpool as architect for the program on the condition that final approval is given by the state, that a state loan is approved and that the necessary finances through local levies are approved.

The board made formal application for assistance in the building program Dec. 14, 1964. Later a representative from the State Department of Education visited the system and helped draft the recommendations.

The proposal calls for a new elementary building, construction of additions to the Hillcrest-Fairview and MacDonald Schools and a complete renovation of the present high school building.

The board has been interviewing architects since it made application for the loan.

THE PROGRAM calls for $860,000 to be raised locally through taxation and a $277,084 loan from the state to be partially paid back over a 20-year period.

T. V. Utterback, chief of the school building section for the State Board of Education, estimated in his recommendations that the proposal would take care of the system's needs through September 1968.

The program calls for a new 600-pupil elementary building, to be located somewhere in the lower end of the city, at an estimated cost of $516,880, plus $23,400 for site and site improvements. This will include a kindergarten, special education facilities, cafeteria and multi-purpose room.

At Fairview, a six-room elementary addition is planned at a cost of $217,390. This would include kindergarten and special education facilities. Another $145,100 is recommended for a kitchen and multi-purpose room at Fairfiew, along with $25,800 more for sewage and water improvements.

AT THE high school, $150,000 is recommended for complete renovation, including a new library. The junior high facilities would be moved to the MacDonald building, where an industrial arts section would be added at an estimated cost of $28,514.

The recommendation also calls for $30,000 in a contingency fund for unforseen costs.

Supt. Lowell Myers said the program would allow for a complete new biology department and a cooperative working program in the high school.

"As long as the state is providing money, we might as well go first class and make every effort to see we get what is needed," he said.

The recommendation points out that Wellsville has a tax duplicate of $12,785,303. By September 1968, the estimated enrollment will be 1,381 in kindergarten through eighth grade and 1,888 from the ninth grade through the 12th grade.

The existing buildings were built to provide for an enrollment of 604 in the elementary grades and 507 in the high school.

Following the regular business meeting, the board held an information session with Beatty to begin planning the necessary steps to put the program into action.

Tornado-Hit States Begin Cleanup Job

Death Toll Mounts To 248; Loss Set At $237 Million

By The Associated Press

The vast job of cleanup was under way today in six tornado-scarred states, hampered by power shortages, debris-littered roads and, in some cases, looting.

The cleanup operations, in the wake of the Palm Sunday outburst of tornadoes that caused $237 million damage, left 248 persons dead and 5,000 injured, had another aim: finding more victims.

In Indiana, where 141 persons were battered to death by twisters, officials and volunteers combed through wreckage in a hunt for more bodies.

"I think we'll find more bodies," predicted Sheriff Woody L. Caton of Elkhart County, Ind. The tornadoes claimed 65 victims in the county, 45 of them within one square mile.

Similar searches, coupled with vast cleanup operations, took place in Ohio and Michigan, where the grim Sunday twisters claimed 53 and 44 deaths, respectively.

Seven persons were killed in Illinois and three in Wisconsin. A tornado seriously injured an Iowa farmer but no deaths were reported there.

The cleanup operations were hampered by power shortages, damaged communication systems, highways strewn with debris and, in many places, heavy looting.

Hospitals and families were plagued by the possibility of water shortages and health perils. Many pumping systems failed to operate.

As the search for more twister victims went on, officials in Minnesota battled to contain the Mississippi River, which threat-

A Wellsville taxi cab owner and operator was fatally injured by a freight train this morning a few hours before a Homeworth district boy was killed when his car skidded on a rain-slicked road and rammed a tree.

Frank Moore, 62, of 330 Main St., died at City Hospital at 11:30 a.m., and Lewis Hahn, 16, of Homeworth R. D. 1 was killed instantly in the other crash — the double fatalities boosting Columbiana County's highway toll to five so far this year, compared to 8 at this time last year.

Mr. Moore was fatally injured when his cab was hit by a freight train on the 18th St. crossing in Wellsville early today, and a woman passenger was hospitalized with injuries suffered in the accident.

Police said the Safeway Cab, driven by Mr. Moore, was hit by a westbound through freight of the Pennsylvania Railroad at 4:33 a. m. His passenger was Mrs. Emma McCaskin, 47, of 2023 Nevada St., Wellsville.

Mr. Moore at first was listed in "very guarded" condition this morning at City Hospital, where Mrs. McCaskill was in "fair" condition

Police said Mr. Moore was headed south on 18th St., toward the Ohio River, when he drove onto the crossing into the path of the train.

The impact literally ripped the 1963 four - door sedan apart. The cab was whirled around on the crossing and slammed against nearby poles.

Mrs. McCaskill had lacerations of the forehead.

Police said there are no flashers on the crossing and the watchman was not on duty. He does not begin work until later in the morning.

Police said the diesel was not damaged. The engineer was C. W. Goetzle of Columbus. The fireman was W. D. Henry of Westerville and J. W. Riley of Columbus was conductor.

The Homeworth area teen-age driver was killed and his 17-year-old companion was seriously injured when their auto smashed into a tree on County Rd. 402, south of North George-

Future Industry Areas Proposed

Proposed future industrial areas in East Liverpool and adjoining townships were outlined in a preliminary report on land use and zoning presented to the City Planning Commission Monday night by the concern preparing a long - range "master plan" for growth and development.

Daniel Ziegler II, a representative of the firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates of Pittsburgh and Columbus, turned over the 36-page printed report to the commission and its land use and zoning committee for study and recommendations. He also discussed the report's findings and conclusions at the commission's meeting in City Hall.

ZIEGLER'S recommendations on industrial land are ranged over familiar ground in most cases and dealt with recommendations generally threshed over in the past. The sites he recommended were:

The area south of 3rd St. to the Ohio River for heavy industry.

Light industry development in Klondyke in the district between the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks and the riverfront and along Harvey Ave. in the vicinity of the Hall China Co.

Light industrial tracts along the proposed route of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway north of Cannons Mills, near State Route 267 north of Swaney Airport and adjoining Route 170 beyond Calcutta.

Possible development of additional light industry near the American Vitrified Products Co. plant in East End and at Columbian Park on Pennsylvania Ave.

Ziegler also cited some land subject to periodic flooding along the riverfront and said it might be reclaimed for industrial use or developed "into river-oriented recreation areas."

—:—

CHARLES SAYRE heads the commission's committee on land use and zoning, which will study the preliminary report and may present recommendations at the June meeting.

Since much of the development in the planning area will affect Liverpool and St. Clair Townships, Ziegler recommended representatives of the commission meet with trustees of the two townships to seek their cooperation. A meeting has been set tentatively for April 27.

The land use analysis pointed out that of the total city area of 2,543 acres, 889 acres—or 35 per cent — remain open and undeveloped. It explained that a large proportion of the undeveloped terrain is on steep slopes or on the river flood plain.

An accompanying chart showed East Liverpool has 7.8 acres per 100 population, compared with an average of 9.9 acres per 100 in 28 cities ranging up to 50,000 in size.

County Home Rules Called Economy Step

2 Delegations Told Reason For Stand By Commissioners

LISBON — New rules for the County Home were adopted "to improve the operations at the lowest possible cost," a protesting delegation was told by county commissioners Monday.

A second group urged a study to have the County Welfare Department take it over with the state paying up to 40 per cent of the expenses.

Five of the citizens committee of seven conferred with commissioners for 75 minutes over the new rules and regulations for the institution. Two of the committee had been excluded as commissioners limited the hearing to five.

The group from the Columbiana County Citizens Committee, principally farmers, included Frank Murray of Lisbon R. D. 4, whose farm adjoins the home farm, Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of Beloit R. D. 2, Ben Weingart of Leetonia R. D. 2, Olan Sanor of East Rochester R. D. 1, and Herbert Frischkorn of Wellsville R. D. 1. Albert Hartley of New Waterford and Richard Stamp of Salem R. D. 2, were not admitted. Murray acted as chairman.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis also attended.

A letter was read first by Dan Butch, commissioners' clerk, and signed by Frank C. Wilson and R. Max Gard, the two Democratic members.

They said they were investigating all ways to improve the operation of the County Home.

"We want the best operation which we can get at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers of Columbiana County. You may rest assured that we will do what we think is in the best interest of the residents of the County Home and the majority of the citizens of the county. We will not be intimidated by any political or pressure group in making policy for this or any

North Ohio Starts Task Of Cleanup

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Thousands of Northern Ohioans surviving Sunday night's devastating flurry of tornadoes today began rebuilding their homes, their businesses and their lives.

State officials estimated that damage to 22 counties hit by the twisters would total "at least $50 million." There were 53 known dead and more than 300 injured, many critically.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, inspecting the stricken areas, described the destruction as "awesome beyond belief." He immediately called out the National Guard and asked President Johnson to declare four counties a disaster area.

Red Cross personnel began helping survivors to clean up and rebuild. Emergency billets were set up for the homeless.

Toledo, hardest hit with dozens of houses flattened, counted 13 deaths and 90 residents hospitalized.

All that remained of Pittsfield, a tiny Lorain County community west of Cleveland, was stacks of lumber and twisted metal. Every building in the village of 50 residents was leveled by a tornado that took 17 lives as it skipped across the county.

The broken path of destruction stretched from the Indiana border to the Cleveland suburbs.

U.S. Aid Official Killed By His Viet Cong Captors

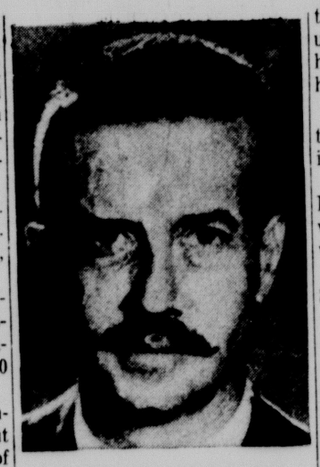

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An American aid official captured by the Viet Cong last Aug. 8 was shot and killed by his Communist captors on Jan. 12 after he escaped for seven days, a U.S. spokesman announced today.

The official was Joseph W. Grainger, 39, of Sumter, S.C. His mother, Mary F. Grainger, lives in West Hartford, Conn.

Grainger, an Air Force veteran, was the U.S. economic assistance mission's representative in Phy Ye Province, 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

He was captured in an ambush with a Filipino assistant and the Vietnamese manager of a sugar cane experiment station.

The U.S. spokesman said independent eyewitnesses had reported his death.

JOSEPH W. GRAINGER

"The American mission condemns in the strongest terms this brutal murder of an unarmed civilian, weakened by hunger and unable to defend himself," the spokesman said.

"This is a violation of international law and accepted humanitarian principles.

"His murder is a wanton violation of the 1949 Geneva convention on the protection of civilians."

Seven Vietnamese air force Skyraiders bombed and destroyed the Thanh Yen bridge in North Viet Nam 70 miles north of the South Vietnamese border today, a Vietnamese spokesman announced.

The spokesman said a number of U.S. Air Force planes accompanied the Vietnamese planes and attacked Communist antiaircraft positions. The number of American planes on the raid was not disclosed.

Each Side Accuses Other In Senate Action

Ohio Highway Bill Killed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of the Republican administration's major appropriations measures has been killed in the evenly divided Ohio Senate, with each side accusing the other of wielding the axe.

Last night's action wiped out an $888 million measure to run the Highway and Highway Safety departments for two years starting July 1. The lawmakers now will have to start all over on the measure.

The showdown, first of the session involving a major administration proposal, added up to a victory for Democrats who charge the GOP is trying to speed vital appropriations bills through the legislature to bring an early end to the session.

Democrats want a chance to bring some of their bills to the floor before final adjournment, they say. Most administration programs were enacted at the GOP-dominated special session late last year.

Democrats who dealt the highway measure a technical defeat at last Thursday's session moved to have it reconsidered last night just before the deadline for such action—two legislative days.

Republicans turned down a motion to leave the matter pending, asserting they could see no need to let the matter "drag on."

Sen. Danny D. Johnson, D-Tuscarawas, asserted that GOP refusal to leave the measure pending means "simply that you have killed your own administration's bill."

"This is the first time in history that a bill has been killed by 16 'yes' votes," countered Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-Hamilton.

The vote that killed the measure was 16-14 with Democratic Sens. David Matia and Anthony F. Novak, both of Cleveland, absent. A majority of 17 votes is needed for passage of bills in the 32-member Senate.

Democratic objections to the dead bill centered around $3 million in license plate revenue which they said was being taken away from local governments.

While new strategy is mapped for another highway measure, the Senate Finance Committee starts hearings today on the $1.46 billion general appropriations measure. The House finance committee was slated to hold first hearings on the administration's $185 million capital improvements bill which completes the proposed money package for the 1965-67 biennium.

The House passed four bills Monday night, including one by Rep. Robert Holmes, R - Franklin, and several cosponsors, allowing counties to assess property owners for removal and destruction of unsafe buildings.

U.S. Aid Official Killed By His Viet Cong Captors

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An American aid official captured by the Viet Cong last Aug. 8 was shot and killed by his Communist captors on Jan. 12 after he escaped for seven days, a U.S. spokesman announced today.

The official was Joseph W. Grainger, 39, of Sumter, S.C. His mother, Mary F. Grainger, lives in West Hartford, Conn.

Grainger, an Air Force veteran, was the U.S. economic assistance mission's representative in Phy Ye Province, 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

He was captured in an ambush with a Filipino assistant and the Vietnamese manager of a sugar cane experiment station.

The U.S. spokesman said independent eyewitnesses had reported his death.

"The American mission condemns in the strongest terms this brutal murder of an unarmed civilian, weakened by hunger and unable to defend himself," the spokesman said.

"This is a violation of international law and accepted humanitarian principles.

"His murder is a wanton violation of the 1949 Geneva convention on the protection of civilians."

Seven Vietnamese air force Skyraiders bombed and destroyed the Thanh Yen bridge in North Viet Nam 70 miles north of the South Vietnamese border today, a Vietnamese spokesman announced.

The spokesman said a number of U.S. Air Force planes accompanied the Vietnamese planes and attacked Communist antiaircraft positions. The number of American planes on the raid was not disclosed.

Each Side Accuses Other In Senate Action

Ohio Highway Bill Killed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of the Republican administration's major appropriations measures has been killed in the evenly divided Ohio Senate, with each side accusing the other of wielding the axe.

Last night's action wiped out an $888 million measure to run the Highway and Highway Safety departments for two years starting July 1. The lawmakers now will have to start all over on the measure.

The showdown, first of the session involving a major administration proposal, added up to a victory for Democrats who charge the GOP is trying to speed vital appropriations bills through the legislature to bring an early end to the session.

Democrats want a chance to bring some of their bills to the floor before final adjournment, they say. Most administration programs were enacted at the GOP-dominated special session late last year.

Democrats who dealt the highway measure a technical defeat at last Thursday's session moved to have it reconsidered last night just before the deadline for such action—two legislative days.

Republicans turned down a motion to leave the matter pending, asserting they could see no need to let the matter "drag on."

Sen. Danny D. Johnson, D-Tuscarawas, asserted that GOP refusal to leave the measure pending means "simply that you have killed your own administration's bill."

"This is the first time in history that a bill has been killed by 16 'yes' votes," countered Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-Hamilton.

The vote that killed the measure was 16-14 with Democratic Sens. David Matia and Anthony F. Novak, both of Cleveland, absent. A majority of 17 votes is needed for passage of bills in the 32-member Senate.

Democratic objections to the dead bill centered around $3 million in license plate revenue which they said was being taken away from local governments.

While new strategy is mapped for another highway measure, the Senate Finance Committee starts hearings today on the $1.46 billion general appropriations measure. The House finance committee was slated to hold first hearings on the administration's $185 million capital improvements bill which completes the proposed money package for the 1965-67 biennium.

The House passed four bills Monday night, including one by Rep. Robert Holmes, R - Franklin, and several cosponsors, allowing counties to assess property owners for removal and destruction of unsafe buildings.

Cold Snap To Follow Diminishing Winds

Heavy winds that whipped the Tri-State area for nearly 24 hours began diminishing late Monday night, but they served to blow in a cold snap that may send the temperature to near freezing tonight.

The Ohio forecast is for a low of 28 to 34 tonight but the regional prediction is 34. The downtown had 40 at 6 a. m. today, the same as at Montgomery Dam, which said today's high may not exceed 56.

There will be a warming trend Wednesday with increasing cloudiness. Tomorrow's high will be a spring-like 67.

Snow mixed with rain was visible in the city at midmorning after a report of snow on the Cannons Mill Hill, but it was brief.

More Tornado Security Needed

Must tornadoes always take heavy tolls of life as well as property?

Until a few years ago, each hurricane that hit the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of this country was an unmitigated disaster.

Inhabitants of the area in front of the storm were trapped in their homes. Not too many years ago, flood victims never had a chance, either. They were not informed about what to expect in the next few hours, even the next few days.

Today, improved weather reporting and communication make tornado alerts possible. Weather stations can predict the climatological conditions that will cause tornadoes. The twisters are no longer unexpected.

But accounts of the tornadoes that killed hundreds and injured thousands last weekend make it plain that tornadoes are not prepared for. People are caught on highways, in shopping centers and on the streets. They are not prepared for the possibility of sudden destruction of their dwellings. They expose themselves needlessly and foolishly to danger.

On the hurricane coasts, the probable path of hurricanes are charted and people are moved away from the line of greatest danger. They are encouraged to assemble in hurricane-proof buildings. Plans are made for mass evacuations and prevention of looting. The security technique is still being perfected, but it already has saved hundreds of lives.

A similar technique could be developed for tornado security. Mass evacuations would not be feasible. But with modern weather forecasting and local initiative to step up community security, infinitely more people could be in secure places during tornado alerts than were there last Sunday.

Still Friendly

Several years ago we commented editorially about the "friendly hills" after East Liverpool and vicinity had escaped virtually unscathed during a severe windstorm.

The expression since has become somewhat of a newsroom joke. Every time there's a stronger - than - normal wind someone laughingly mentions the "friendly hills."

Joke as they will, after the death and damage that twisters have inflicted on the more level areas of the Midwest we're taking our hats off once more to the hills. They may be troublesome at times, but they're mighty nice to have around when the wind goes on a rampage.

One Point Painfully Clear

The 75th anniversary of Pan Americanism is at hand. Pan American Day on April 14 and Pan American Week, beginning Easter Sunday, will turn thoughts in both North and South America to what has been called the world's most successful association of sovereign governments.

One point about the association is painfully clear. The true course of international relations is never smooth. The tortuous road of Pan Americanism started in 1889 when President Cleveland opened the first International Conference of American States.

A permanent agency, the Commercial Bureau of the American Republics, was organized the next year. This was renamed the Pan American Union in 1910 and its anniversary is celebrated as Pan American Day. Pan American Week celebrates the anniversary of the plan for arbitration of international disputes.

There have been many bends in the road and much violence since the plan was promulgated. But out of the shared experiences of triumph and disappointment has evolved a web of mutual security and assistance binding together the 21 members of the Organization of American States.

Latest and perhaps most significant of all is the Alliance for Progress, which came into existence in 1961 as one of the policy cornerstones of the Kennedy administration. It was an attempt, only recently beginning to show results, to put U.S. capital and know-how back of an anti-poverty program in Latin America.

Everything about the concept of the program cut across the grain of Latin American tradition. Yet, everything about it was in keeping with U.S. ideals of mutual assistance.

No other nation ever believed in lending a helping hand. This helps to explain why no other nation ever was so misunderstood, so rebuffed, so criticized, so resented.

International society has been confronted with something new and in the age-old way of human nature has fought it because it was new — not because it was wrong, only because it was new.

On The Move

Youth Grangers and 4-H Club members were busy over the weekend as they joined in activities on scattered fronts.

Columbiana County's Youth Grange drill team placed third in Ohiowide competition at Lakewood High School in Licking County and 4-Hers from Hancock County clubs participated in contests and demonstrations in the annual program held at New Cumberland.

The results stand as another feather in the hat of the youngsters themselves and the adult leaders who have guided their efforts so ably.

Two Things Money Can't Buy

The $1.3 billion school aid bill is of more than passing importance to President Johnson.

His countrymen all know of this one-time school teacher's faith in the power of education. He believes it will be able to overcome poverty.

Educational opportunity for all is one of the specifications of the Great Society President Johnson hopes to have a hand in building while in the White House.

But his good faith and high hopes do not offset deep doubts and skeptical thoughts about this first large-scale federal incursion into public education.

Whenever the federal government has gone into other fields of public endeavor effect always has been to slow down local action while local authorities found out how much federal money they could count on.

This could be the unexpected result of federal aid to education — that it would slow down, tie up and even cancel out an equivalent total of local money. The net effect might be a reduction of funds for public schools.

Even if all the federal spending proved to be a net addition to education funds, there are two things in this world money cannot buy.

The United States has learned through foreign aid that money cannot buy friendship any more successfully in international relations than in personal relations.

And Americans have learned through personal experience that money cannot buy education. It can buy books, classrooms, teachers, equipment and pay heat and light bills. But education must be earned by strong motivation and hard application. It is personal.

Man Bites Dog

By Truman Twill

It was to have been expected that a dog softy like me would want to say a few words about the Japanese kook who bit the dog.

If you missed the story, it happened in Yokohama.

A newspaper vendor got a snootful, took offense when a dog barked at him, closed in on the animal and bit it.

He kept biting it until the police arrived and pulled him off.

It finally happened—a man bit a dog. And, as it was supposed to be, the story was news. It was printed all over the world.

All the dogs that bit men that same day made no news. It is not news when a dog bites a man, bub. It is only news if a man bites a dog, see.

This's what they have been telling fledgling newsmen for a generation. And unlike most of the stuff the fledglings have heard at the arthritic knee of some tottery preceptor, it's true.

IT'S ONLY NEWS if a man bites a dog —and don't forget it. News is the exceptional thing, not the ordinary thing.

It is news when a teen-age boy or girl gets into a scrape;

When an auto driver has an accident;

A public official steals money;

An airplane falls out of the sky or fails to rise into the sky according to plan;

A pedestrian is accosted on the street;

A minority group is rubbed so raw its members make a public demonstration;

A law enforcement officer forgets his sworn duty and acts like a crook;

A firearm is used irresponsibly;

A college student expresses his individuality by engaging in a panty raid;

A structure collapses;

A human being becomes a dope fiend;

An athlete throws a game for under-the-table money;

A ship sinks;

A bridge collapses;

A foreign statesman spits in Uncle Sam's face;

An appropriation is frittered away;

A constitutional principle is violated;

A labor union calls a strike;

A citizen borrows money to pay his income tax;

A city has a water shortage;

A circus performer falls from a high act and is killed;

A traffic jam develops on a main artery of travel;

Or a public official gets caught with his hand in the till.

But let these rarities occur back to back and people shake their heads and mutter, "It happens all the time—something has gone wrong with the human race—civilization as we have known it is disappearing—something needs to be done right away."

Men biting dogs? Old stuff. Happens all the time.

'Operation Strangulation'

By Victor Riesel

MIAMI

In an "office" furnished more sparsely than a monk's cell, a handful of Latin Americans weave an economic rope which may yet strangle Fidel Castro's communism.

Victor Riesel

These men make up the action committee of Western Hemisphere labor leaders now launching a boycott of all who deal with Cuba. Their network is global —reaching even into the Orient.

The actual world center of this campaign is in the headquarters of the Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers (ORIT) at Plaza de la Republica 30, Mexico, D.F.

Their objective as implemented by the actionists here in Miami is a single one—punish those anywhere in the world who help Castro survive.

AT THE MOMENT, for example, ORIT's crusaders have declared economic war on the Japanese.

Some weeks ago the actionists learned that Tokyo was dispatching an 19-man trade mission to tour Latin America in search of heavy orders for Japanese businessmen.

ORIT's only objection to this mission is based on evidence in the Mexico City headquarters disclosing that Japan did over $40 million worth of business with Cuba in 1964.

The ORIT officials can document this from their own sources in Tokyo and their underground contacts in Cuba which monitor every vessel going into a Castroite harbor.

Last year ORIT urged the Japanese to cut off this trade. Tokyo refused. Thus the economic vendetta began. On March 18 ORIT's Mexican headquarters cabled all its affiliated unions — which include the AFL-CIO.

THEY WERE asked to move under the authority of a resolution passed at the recent Sixth Congress of ORIT which called most effective boycott possible against Cuba."

First, the most powerful unions in all Latin America were directed to "send a delegation from your union to the minister of economics of the government in your country to register a protest to expansion of trade between Japan and the free nations of Latin America while Japan continues its trading with Cuba any materials other than food intended for the hungry and oppressed people of Cuba."

Secondly, the unions were urged to present a protest to the Japanese mission itself directly upon its arrival in each country.

With this presentation will go a direct warning that any ship carrying Japanese goods to Cuba will positively not be handled by any Latin or U.S. Longshoreman.

THIS IS no idle or melodramatic threat. Already, ORIT's actionists have enough support to force foreign traders to choose between selling to Castro or doing business with many Latin lands.

For example, on Feb. 13 my good friend Senor Wenceslao Moreno Avila, secretary general of the Chilean Maritime Confederation headquartered in Valparaiso, announced that his followers would boycott all those who deal with Cuba.

"We are issuing the necessary instructions," he said "so that boycott measures are applied at all Chilean ports."

No harbor, no onshore or offshore worker is overlooked by the ORIT boycotters.

On Feb. 5, the Association of Argentine River, Tug Boat Masters, Pilots and Engineers publicly proclaimed its solidarity with all measures taken by the Venezuelan waterfront unions which launched this boycott of Communist Cuba.

ON FEB. 23, the economic war won a strong ally when Nicholas Pollard, executive secretary of the Latin American Confederation of Christian Unions, arrived here.

His union represents English, French and Dutch speaking workers in the entire Caribbean. He, too, promised "backing of the boycott against Cuba initiated by the Venezuelan workers. . . ."

"Christian organizations could play a major role in the fight against Communism," said Pollard, referring to his network of Catholic unions.

Thus, dock by dock, the ORIT and its allies are closing vital and profitable harbors to those traders and shippers who do business with Havana. At a global labor congress next July ORIT will ask the rest of the free world's unions to join in "Operation Strangulation."

The Latins will simply ask the World Congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions to direct all waterfronts and transportations in democratic lands to refuse to handle Cuban-bound truck, rail or ocean cargo.

The World Congress meets in Amsterdam, whose streets once were pounded by the boots and guns of the Nazis.

It should not be a difficult decision for free men to make.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—FERA funds were provided for redecorating the interior and painting the exterior of the Hammondsville School.

Police reported that counterfeit $10 bills were in circulation here, after two such notes were observed at two banks.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Prof. Paul Bucher of Ohio State University, an East Liverpool native, received special recognition from the university's Board of Trustees for his 27 years of service.

James T. Fortiner was ordained as a new elder of the First Presbyterian Church.

The police department's new two-way radio equipment demonstrated its practical worth when a patrolman rushed from W. 4th St. to Mulberry St., to corner a mad dog within minutes after a telephoned report.

TEN YEARS AGO — Advertising for bids for construction of the Beaver Local School District's new 25-classroom high school near Williamsport was authorized by the Board of Education.

Plans were stepped up for construction of a fire station for the Calcutta volunteer department.

Quake Zones

By George Lichty

Severe earthquakes in Chile, Greece and Japan have killed and injured hundreds of people this year, and frightened millions more.

Sych heavy loss of life is rare, but quakes are common. The 1,200 seismograph stations around the globe detect perhaps half a million temblors during the course of a year, the National Geographic Society says. Some 100,000 can be felt or heard. About 1,000 cause damage.

No place is immune from the possibility of an earthquake, but four out of five occur around the edge of the Pacific Ocean. Chile and Japan lie in this region, as does Alaska, which suffered heavy damage on Good Friday, 1964.

A second major trouble zone extends from the West Indies across the Atlantic and Mediterranean to the Himalayas and East Indies. Greece is within this second zone.

Today's most widely accepted theory of quakes holds that they are caused by titanic shifts in the earth's crust along cracks or fracture lines called faults.

Discrimination List

By David Lawrence

Contractor Questions Government's Action

Discrimination is being widely condemned nowadays yet the federal government itself engages in a certain type of discrimination when it insists on knowing the number of Negroes employed by contractors doing government work but does not ask for information which might reveal whether any other form of racial or religious discrimination in employment is being practiced.

David Lawrence

When a contractor, for example, performs street - improvement work which is subsidized by the federal government, it's necessary for the contractor to submit a weekly payroll form which not only itemizes the total number of his employes separated into categories of the skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled but also has a special column to show how many of the total in each group are Negroes.

An executive order issued on March 6, 1961, and subsequently amended by the Democratic administration, requires the contractor to agree that he "will not discriminate against any employe or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color or national origin."

The federal government does not, however, require any report on how many Catholics, Protestants or Jewish persons are employed, nor does it ask the "national origin" of employes — that is, whether they are Italians, Greeks, English, French, Mexicans, Africans or Asians.

THE PURPOSE of the governmental forms is to prevent discrimination, but the federal government seems to be concerned only with discrimination involving Negroes.

A contractor in a Western state—whose personnel changes from time to time because of the nature of his work — writes to this correspondent as follows:

"You will notice that, in addition to the number of employes, the form requires that the number of Negroes employed must also be reported.

"This appears to us to be a most flagrantly discriminatory type of inquiry for our government to make at a time when discriminators are to be punished.

"Aren't American Indians, Chinese and all other races now being discriminated against by our government because these people are not included in the reporting requirement?" It's difficult to believe that thinking Negroes would want to be singled out in this way as the only people named on a government questionnaire.

"We are a small organization and we have employed Negro men in past years who have done excellent work and were a credit to our firm. But when several of these payroll forms were submitted last summer we did not happen to have any Negro employes to report. By our answer to this inquiry in the negative, we naturally are concerned about its effect on government personnel and how it will in turn affect our relationship with the government in the future."

THE GOVERNMENT has not drawn up its report forms to ascertain whether competent employes applied for the jobs and whether a sincere effort was made to hire persons of different races or nationalities. The form simply asks the total number and how many are Negroes.

If there is a suspicion that the percentage of Negroes is too small, the government, of course, can make this a basis for refusing to renew a contract or to do business with the firm in the future.

Naturally, when there are complaints about discrimination on grounds other than race, the government looks into the matter but the chief concern of many contractors today is whether, when seeking to do work on any project in which government funds are used, they will be granted or denied contracts on the basis of how many Negro employes are actually on their payrolls.

Although the government of the United States now requires lists to be prepared on the basis of white or Negro employes, only last autumn the Supreme Court of the United States struck down as unconstitutional certain laws of the State of Virginia requiring a listing of race on voting, poll tax and real-estate assessment lists.

In some areas, race is not shown on the records of those attending public schools or employed in local government offices, as it's felt that any listing which includes race would in itself be a discriminatory practice.

IT'S SURPRISING to see the federal government requiring contractors to classify their employes by race when they seek government contracts.

Incidentally, if a contractor decides that, in order to make sure he will get a government contract, he must have more employes of a certain race or group and limits his hiring to that group, or dismisses some of his present employes to make room for them, there is no way to fix legal responsibility on those officials in the federal government who have indirectly caused such a discrimination to take place.

Highly Energetic President

By James Marlow

The one voice that drowns out all else in Washington is President Johnson's. His Cabinet members sound like thin echoes of him and even Congress is muted.

This is an extremely unusual year in Washington — for the absence of feuds, fights and flaps — although it may be overlooked in the bang-bang-bang way Johnson is getting things done and attracting attention.

After almost 17 months of exposure to Johnson in the White House the nation is getting used to its bouncy, highly energetic President whose performance Monday was more or less typical of his activity any day.

He flew back from Texas; opened the baseball season by throwing out not one ball but two; stopped off on his way back to the White House to lay a wreath on the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial which was dedicated Monday, and Monday night entertained one-third of the Senate again at a combination reception and idea-swap in the White House.

Tonight he is having a 5 o'clock reception for the congressional leaders who put through his aid-to-education bill Monday night; at 6 o'clock he will have a reception and idea-swap with the second third of the Senate (again); and Wednesday night he will have a reception and idea-swap with the third third of the Senate (again).

Johnson manages to stay in print practically every day by doing something or saying something, although the general public has no idea of what a talker the President is.

He has many, many sessions with newsmen, singly or in groups, with the understanding he won't be quoted directly or, depending on what he is saying, at all. In some of these group sessions he has talked as much as three hours.

His complete domination of the executive branch of the government, at least, can be illustrated by what two men above all others say, or rather what they don't say: Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk is the quiet, technician type who apparently expects the top man to do the talking anyway, which is quite a contrast with President Dwight D. Eisenhower's secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

Rusk was a pale figure even under President John F. Kennedy but under Johnson he has become almost shadowy, saying hardly anything, and when he does talk it's mostly the obvious, or a banality, or a reptition of something Johnson has said or some line Johnson has laid down.

This is true of all the Cabinet members who, when they do have to say something, do it with a minimum of commotion and disappear off stage again.

Humphrey, twice as ebullient as Johnson when he was in the Senate and before he became vice president, has been making a lot of talks to various groups, including an international azalea festival, but is strictly a salesman for what Johnson calls the "Great Society" or for whatever else Johnson is pushing.

A labor union calls a strike;

A citizen borrows money to pay his income tax;

A city has a water shortage;

A circus performer falls from a high act and is killed;

A traffic jam develops on a main artery of travel;

Or a public official gets caught with his hand in the till.

But let these rarities occur back to back and people shake their heads and mutter, "It happens all the time—something has gone wrong with the human race—civilization as we have known it is disappearing—something needs to be done right away."

Men biting dogs? Old stuff. Happens all the time.

'Operation Strangulation'

By Victor Riesel

MIAMI

In an "office" furnished more sparsely than a monk's cell, a handful of Latin Americans weave an economic rope which may yet strangle Fidel Castro's communism.

Victor Riesel

These men make up the action committee of Western Hemisphere labor leaders now launching a boycott of all who deal with Cuba. Their network is global —reaching even into the Orient.

The actual world center of this campaign is in the headquarters of the Inter-American Regional Organization of Workers (ORIT) at Plaza de la Republica 30, Mexico, D.F.

Their objective as implemented by the actionists here in Miami is a single one—punish those anywhere in the world who help Castro survive.

AT THE MOMENT, for example, ORIT's crusaders have declared economic war on the Japanese.

Some weeks ago the actionists learned that Tokyo was dispatching an 19-man trade mission to tour Latin America in search of heavy orders for Japanese businessmen.

ORIT's only objection to this mission is based on evidence in the Mexico City headquarters disclosing that Japan did over $40 million worth of business with Cuba in 1964.

The ORIT officials can document this from their own sources in Tokyo and their underground contacts in Cuba which monitor every vessel going into a Castroite harbor.

Last year ORIT urged the Japanese to cut off this trade. Tokyo refused. Thus the economic vendetta began. On March 18 ORIT's Mexican headquarters cabled all its affiliated unions — which include the AFL-CIO.

THEY WERE asked to move under the authority of a resolution passed at the recent Sixth Congress of ORIT which called most effective boycott possible against Cuba."

First, the most powerful unions in all Latin America were directed to "send a delegation from your union to the minister of economics of the government in your country to register a protest to expansion of trade between Japan and the free nations of Latin America while Japan continues its trading with Cuba any materials other than food intended for the hungry and oppressed people of Cuba."

Secondly, the unions were urged to present a protest to the Japanese mission itself directly upon its arrival in each country.

With this presentation will go a direct warning that any ship carrying Japanese goods to Cuba will positively not be handled by any Latin or U.S. Longshoreman.

THIS IS no idle or melodramatic threat. Already, ORIT's actionists have enough support to force foreign traders to choose between selling to Castro or doing business with many Latin lands.

For example, on Feb. 13 my good friend Senor Wenceslao Moreno Avila, secretary general of the Chilean Maritime Confederation headquartered in Valparaiso, announced that his followers would boycott all those who deal with Cuba.

"We are issuing the necessary instructions," he said "so that boycott measures are applied at all Chilean ports."

No harbor, no onshore or offshore worker is overlooked by the ORIT boycotters.

On Feb. 5, the Association of Argentine River, Tug Boat Masters, Pilots and Engineers publicly proclaimed its solidarity with all measures taken by the Venezuelan waterfront unions which launched this boycott of Communist Cuba.

ON FEB. 23, the economic war won a strong ally when Nicholas Pollard, executive secretary of the Latin American Confederation of Christian Unions, arrived here.

His union represents English, French and Dutch speaking workers in the entire Caribbean. He, too, promised "backing of the boycott against Cuba initiated by the Venezuelan workers. . . ."

"Christian organizations could play a major role in the fight against Communism," said Pollard, referring to his network of Catholic unions.

Thus, dock by dock, the ORIT and its allies are closing vital and profitable harbors to those traders and shippers who do business with Havana. At a global labor congress next July ORIT will ask the rest of the free world's unions to join in "Operation Strangulation."

The Latins will simply ask the World Congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions to direct all waterfronts and transportations in democratic lands to refuse to handle Cuban-bound truck, rail or ocean cargo.

The World Congress meets in Amsterdam, whose streets once were pounded by the boots and guns of the Nazis.

It should not be a difficult decision for free men to make.

Quake Zones

Severe earthquakes in Chile, Greece and Japan have killed and injured hundreds of people this year, and frightened millions more.

Sych heavy loss of life is rare, but quakes are common. The 1,200 seismograph stations around the globe detect perhaps half a million temblors during the course of a year, the National Geographic Society says. Some 100,000 can be felt or heard. About 1,000 cause damage.

No place is immune from the possibility of an earthquake, but four out of five occur around the edge of the Pacific Ocean. Chile and Japan lie in this region, as does Alaska, which suffered heavy damage on Good Friday, 1964.

A second major trouble zone extends from the West Indies across the Atlantic and Mediterranean to the Himalayas and East Indies. Greece is within this second zone.

Today's most widely accepted theory of quakes holds that they are caused by titanic shifts in the earth's crust along cracks or fracture lines called faults.

Discrimination List

By David Lawrence

Contractor Questions Government's Action

Discrimination is being widely condemned nowadays yet the federal government itself engages in a certain type of discrimination when it insists on knowing the number of Negroes employed by contractors doing government work but does not ask for information which might reveal whether any other form of racial or religious discrimination in employment is being practiced.

David Lawrence

When a contractor, for example, performs street-improvement work which is subsidized by the federal government, it's necessary for the contractor to submit a weekly payroll form which not only itemizes the total number of his employes separated into categories of the skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled but also has a special column to show how many of the total in each group are Negroes.

An executive order issued on March 6, 1961, and subsequently amended by the Democratic administration, requires the contractor to agree that he "will not discriminate against any employe or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color or national origin."

The federal government does not, however, require any report on how many Catholics, Protestants or Jewish persons are employed, nor does it ask the "national origin" of employes — that is, whether they are Italians, Greeks, English, French, Mexicans, Africans or Asians.

THE PURPOSE of the governmental forms is to prevent discrimination, but the federal government seems to be concerned only with discrimination involving Negroes.

A contractor in a Western state—whose personnel changes from time to time because of the nature of his work — writes to this correspondent as follows:

"You will notice that, in addition to the number of employes, the form requires that the number of Negroes employed must also be reported.

"This appears to us to be a most flagrantly discriminatory type of inquiry for our government to make at a time when discriminators are to be punished.

"Aren't American Indians, Chinese and all other races now being discriminated against by our government because these people are not included in the reporting requirement?" It's difficult to believe that thinking Negroes would want to be singled out in this way as the only people named on a government questionnaire.

"We are a small organization and we have employed Negro men in past years who have done excellent work and were a credit to our firm. But when several of these payroll forms were submitted last summer we did not happen to have any Negro employes to report. By our answer to this inquiry in the negative, we naturally are concerned about its effect on government personnel and how it will in turn affect our relationship with the government in the future."

THE GOVERNMENT has not drawn up its report forms to ascertain whether competent employes applied for the jobs and whether a sincere effort was made to hire persons of different races or nationalities. The form simply asks the total number and how many are Negroes.

If there is a suspicion that the percentage of Negroes is too small, the government, of course, can make this a basis for refusing to renew a contract or to do business with the firm in the future.

Naturally, when there are complaints about discrimination on grounds other than race, the government looks into the matter but the chief concern of many contractors today is whether, when seeking to do work on any project in which government funds are used, they will be granted or denied contracts on the basis of how many Negro employes are actually on their payrolls.

Although the government of the United States now requires lists to be prepared on the basis of white or Negro employes, only last autumn the Supreme Court of the United States struck down as unconstitutional certain laws of the State of Virginia requiring a listing of race on voting, poll tax and real-estate assessment lists.

In some areas, race is not shown on the records of those attending public schools or employed in local government offices, as it's felt that any listing which includes race would in itself be a discriminatory practice.

IT'S SURPRISING to see the federal government requiring contractors to classify their employes by race when they seek government contracts.

Incidentally, if a contractor decides that, in order to make sure he will get a government contract, he must have more employes of a certain race or group and limits his hiring to that group, or dismisses some of his present employes to make room for them, there is no way to fix legal responsibility on those officials in the federal government who have indirectly caused such a discrimination to take place.

Highly Energetic President

By James Marlow

The one voice that drowns out all else in Washington is President Johnson's. His Cabinet members sound like thin echoes of him and even Congress is muted.

This is an extremely unusual year in Washington — for the absence of feuds, fights and flaps — although it may be overlooked in the bang-bang-bang way Johnson is getting things done and attracting attention.

After almost 17 months of exposure to Johnson in the White House the nation is getting used to its bouncy, highly energetic President whose performance Monday was more or less typical of his activity any day.

He flew back from Texas; opened the baseball season by throwing out not one ball but two; stopped off on his way back to the White House to lay a wreath on the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial which was dedicated Monday, and Monday night entertained one-third of the Senate again at a combination reception and idea-swap in the White House.

Tonight he is having a 5 o'clock reception for the congressional leaders who put through his aid-to-education bill Monday night; at 6 o'clock he will have a reception and idea-swap with the second third of the Senate (again); and Wednesday night he will have a reception and idea-swap with the third third of the Senate (again).

Johnson manages to stay in print practically every day by doing something or saying something, although the general public has no idea of what a talker the President is.

He has many, many sessions with newsmen, singly or in groups, with the understanding he won't be quoted directly or, depending on what he is saying, at all. In some of these group sessions he has talked as much as three hours.

His complete domination of the executive branch of the government, at least, can be illustrated by what two men above all others say, or rather what they don't say: Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk is the quiet, technician type who apparently expects the top man to do the talking anyway, which is quite a contrast with President Dwight D. Eisenhower's secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

Rusk was a pale figure even under President John F. Kennedy but under Johnson he has become almost shadowy, saying hardly anything, and when he does talk it's mostly the obvious, or a banality, or a reptition of something Johnson has said or some line Johnson has laid down.

This is true of all the Cabinet members who, when they do have to say something, do it with a minimum of commotion and disappear off stage again.

Humphrey, twice as ebullient as Johnson when he was in the Senate and before he became vice president, has been making a lot of talks to various groups, including an international azalea festival, but is strictly a salesman for what Johnson calls the "Great Society" or for whatever else Johnson is pushing.

Tornadoes

ened to overflow at record heights.

Riverfront businesses shut down, employes stayed away from work and school children from school as the flood threat grew in the St. Paul, Minn., area.

At least six persons have been killed and 20,000 made homeless by Minnesota and Wisconsin floods.

The Palm Sunday tornadoes first were sighted in Iowa and then moved to the east, increasing with intensity with every strike.

Destruction was so great in some areas that officials said it was impossible to estimate damage.

Elkhart, Ind., officials placed the tornado cost at $100 million to $150 million. Ohio estimated damage at $50 million, Michigan at $20 million, Illinois at $12 million and Wisconsin at $5 million.

The barrage of tornadoes was the worst disaster in Indiana history.

Two towns, Russiaville and Alto, were completely wiped off the map.

Some highways remained blocked 36 hours after tornadoes ripped three wide swaths through the central and northern sections of Indiana.

Battered bodies, many in night clothing, packed morgues set up in high school gymnasiums and stores.

"It's as close to hell as I care to be," said one weary newsman who toured the disaster area.

Paul Huffman, a reporter-photographer for the Elkhart (Ind.) Truth, and his wife were driving near Dunlap when a tornado dipped into a trailer camp and killed 45 persons.

"After the funnels passed at freight-train speed, the silence was shocking," Huffman said. "I thought there must be thousands killed. The extent of damage was unbelievable. The 92 house trailers were destroyed. About a dozen were upended."

"The trailers were ripped from their frames, whirled about in the air and sent crashing to the ground," he said.

In northern Ohio, where more than 350 persons were killed or injured by hop-skipping twisters, Gov. James A. Rhodes made a sad tour of the battered areas.

"This is one of Ohio's saddest hours," he said.

The toll in Toledo alone was 13 dead, 178 injured and 90 hospitalized.

He listed ways parents can aid their children, including helping them to read, visiting classrooms, providing good reading material at home and taking them to points of interest.

Water Group Eyes County Aid Program

The Southeastern Water and Sewer District, created over a year ago to establish service in St. Clair Township, has filed for a Common Pleas Court hearing to dissolve the district, in line with joining a county water and sewer district.

The trustees seek to abandon plans for the separate water and sewer proposal and turn over to the county commissioners all the liabilities and assets of the Southeastern District.

Plans for constructing standpipes and installing mains for water to be purchased from East Liverpool had been advanced by the trustees.

Because of legal technicalities in financing, and in the belief that more federal aid would be available through a county program, it was decided to utilize the county approach, a spokesman said.

It was emphasized that plans will be continued to develop a water system for the same areas, including Calcutta, Glenmoor and other parts of the township along with parts of Liverpool Township.

The petition seeks to have a hearing before Judge Raymond Buzzard May 14 or at a date as soon after that is convenient to the court.

Planning

a dominant feature, land can become a precious resource," the report commented. "If the East Liverpool area is to grow and prosper, it is important that each acre of land be used effectively rather than in a careless, spendthrift manner as if the supply of good land were inexhaustible."

—:—

THE PLANNING area shows the effect of haphazard land development, with homes side by side, with factories and other industrial plants hemmed in so that expansion is impractical, the report said.

It added: "Haphazard commercial development has been allowed along some of the important arterial highways, reducing the traffic carrying capacity to the point where new highways must be developed."

Ziegler explained there is a "belt route" around the East Liverpool area at present, comprised of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd., Route 170, the Y. & O. Rd. and Route 267. But a new belt route is needed closer to the center of the city to give easier access to areas separated by valleys and hills, he commented.

Ziegler said a four - lane "primary route" will be recommended to connect Calcutta and Glenmoor with the Lake-River Highway interchange at Substation. In Calcutta, the report will suggest realignment of State Route 170 to take it away from the business district, he said.

A new connection also is required between Glenmoor and the East Liverpool - Wellsville super - road, Ziegler said.

THE PRELIMINARY report was accompanied by many charts and illustrations, including a drawing showing proposed development of the area extending beyond 1990. The planning area's population now is 33,000. The report envisages a population of 55,000 to 60,000 when the development is complete sometime around the arrival of the 21st Century.

In a brief business session prior to Ziegler's report, the commission returned Don Eckert as chairman, a post he has held since 1958. Donald McGillivray was returned as secretary.

Eckert welcomed James Grafton as a new member of the commission. He was named a week ago by Mayor Merrill D. Hall to fill out the unexpired term of E. L. Wheatley, who resigned when he moved to a new apartment outside the city limits.

McGillivray read a letter of resignation from Donald Baxter, who was one of the commission's four representatives to the County Regional Planning Commission. Baxter resigned when the Ohio Power Co. transferred him to a new post in Portsmouth.

Eckert said the names of Patrolman Orin C. Smith and Alonzo Spencer, an East End steelworker, have been suggested as Baxter's replacement. The commission deferred election of a successor until its June meeting. The other representatives to the regional commission are Richard McCullough, George Bloomgren and Glenn Waight.

In addition to Eckert, Grafton and Mayor Hall, other members of the commission attending were George Steele, John Parsons and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey. Councilman William Davis and Norman Bucher also were present.

Bank Barn Fire Lashed By Wind

LISBON — Fire leveled a medium - sized bank barn Monday night at the Ed Wallace farm on Churchhill Rd., 2.5 miles east.

A 30-mph. wind made the blaze roar. Fortunately, it blew the heat away from a nearby metal machinery shed, which otherwise would have been lost.

Wallace and his son, Frank, were able to save six cows and a wagon. The rest of the herd was in pasture.

Lisbon firemen answered the alarm at 8:35 and could see the glow in the sky as they left town. The fire had such a start they could do nothing.

Firemen said Wallace told them the barn contained baled hay, small tools, lumber and machinery. Origin of the fire was undetermined, firemen said.

The building was partly insured. Estimates of the loss were not available.

week. He will officially begin his duties Friday.

In other action, Council conferred with Charles Schubert of the Ernest Hamilton Associates of Indianapolis, engineers and architects, who discussed possible federal aid for a sewage disposal system for the village.

Mayor Stanley Fitch said he will arrange a meeting on the proposed system after studying a survey on such a system made about seven years ago by the Madison Engineering Co. of Mansfield.

The mayor reported about 3.4 miles of village streets are tentatively slated for seal-coating under the summer program with Columbiana County, and 0.4 mile is due oiling with an asphalt base for resurfacing next year. Mayor Fitch plans to confer with county commissioners on the plan this week.

Fitch said he will also ask the commissioners about replacing a Main St. bridge which is deteriorating and too narrow for proper traffic flow.

Discussion was held on spouting repairs needed at the Village Hall, and Fitch said he will obtain the services of a tinner.

Chief Laney submitted a report of police activities for the period March 15-April 12. He said he patrolled 1,164 miles, issued 15 warnings and seven citations, and investigated two domestic cases, one stolen property case and 10 dog complaints.

Annual Fish, Game Hearing Set April 23

LISBON — The annual Columbiana County fish and game hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 23, in Lisbon Village Hall.

Representatives of the Division of Wildlife will attend. Howard Adrian of East Liverpool will be chairman.

Recommendations or resolutions made by sportsmen and farmers at the county meeting go to a district hearing at Akron. A final hearing is held at Columbus.

Group Lists 2 Airport Sites

An advisory committee appointed by Mayor Merrill D. Hall, meeting Monday night at City Hall, selected two sites for a proposed Columbiana County airport and passed them on to the County Regional Planning Commission, which is receiving suggestions from various communities.

The mayor's committee recommended the present Swaney Airport property on State Route 267 near Glenmoor and another tract near Elkton on the Roller Coaster Rd.

The mayor said the data on the two sites will be explained in a letter to E. L. Calvin of Columbiana, chairman of the regional group's transportation committee. The committee is scheduled to receive similar suggestions from other sections of the county.

Gov. James A. Rhodes earlier proposed establishment of airports in all 88 Ohio counties, contingent on approval of a bond issue at the May 4 primaries.

The mayor said in his letter to Calvin the Swaney site is at an elevation of 1,170 feet above sea level and is six miles from the population center of the county. It would serve 140,000 persons in the region, he said. The Elkton tract is 1,180 feet above sea level and land is available for a 4,000-foot runway, he said.

Attending the meeting, in addition to the mayor, were City Engineer George S. Bloomgren, Richard McCullough, Ralph Finley, E. R. Chandler, Robert Lewis and John R. Woomer.

Clevelander Forfeits

LISBON — Harold C. Loar, 26, of Cleveland, arrested in the village early today on a charge of speeding, forfeited a $15 appearance bond in Mayor Dean Stockman's court. Deputy Sheriff Herman (Cy) Wellman made the arrest.

Barry Allen Lowry, 16, of Lisbon R. D. 5 was cited after his 1964 convertible veered off Route 45 about two miles north of Lisbon Monday while passing another vehicle.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said Lowry was headed north. He told officers the other vehicle swerved to the left, causing him to go off the road and lose control. He was charged with speed in excess of safe road conditions.

SALINEVILLE — Village firemen Monday night quelled a coal shed blaze and a grass fire.

a dominant feature, land can become a precious resource," the report commented. "If the East Liverpool area is to grow and prosper, it is important that each acre of land be used effectively rather than in a careless, spendthrift manner as if the supply of good land were inexhaustible."

—:—

THE PLANNING area shows the effect of haphazard land development, with homes side by side, with factories and other industrial plants hemmed in so that expansion is impractical, the report said.

It added: "Haphazard commercial development has been allowed along some of the important arterial highways, reducing the traffic carrying capacity to the point where new highways must be developed."

Ziegler explained there is a "belt route" around the East Liverpool area at present, comprised of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd., Route 170, the Y. & O. Rd. and Route 267. But a new belt route is needed closer to the center of the city to give easier access to areas separated by valleys and hills, he commented.

Ziegler said a four - lane "primary route" will be recommended to connect Calcutta and Glenmoor with the Lake-River Highway interchange at Substation. In Calcutta, the report will suggest realignment of State Route 170 to take it away from the business district, he said.

A new connection also is required between Glenmoor and the East Liverpool - Wellsville super - road, Ziegler said.

THE PRELIMINARY report was accompanied by many charts and illustrations, including a drawing showing proposed development of the area extending beyond 1990. The planning area's population now is 33,000. The report envisages a population of 55,000 to 60,000 when the development is complete sometime around the arrival of the 21st Century.

In a brief business session prior to Ziegler's report, the commission returned Don Eckert as chairman, a post he has held since 1958. Donald McGillivray was returned as secretary.

Eckert welcomed James Grafton as a new member of the commission. He was named a week ago by Mayor Merrill D. Hall to fill out the unexpired term of E. L. Wheatley, who resigned when he moved to a new apartment outside the city limits.

McGillivray read a letter of resignation from Donald Baxter, who was one of the commission's four representatives to the County Regional Planning Commission. Baxter resigned when the Ohio Power Co. transferred him to a new post in Portsmouth.

Eckert said the names of Patrolman Orin C. Smith and Alonzo Spencer, an East End steelworker, have been suggested as Baxter's replacement. The commission deferred election of a successor until its June meeting. The other representatives to the regional commission are Richard McCullough, George Bloomgren and Glenn Waight.

In addition to Eckert, Grafton and Mayor Hall, other members of the commission attending were George Steele, John Parsons and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey. Councilman William Davis and Norman Bucher also were present.

Bailey's Late Blast Puts Bucs On Top

BOB BAILEY
His Sock Ends Opener.

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was opening day but Pittsburgh's Bob Veale, Milwaukee's Tony Cloninger and Casey Stengel's New York Mets were in midseason form.

Veale, the tall Pirate lefthander who led baseball's major leagues with 250 strikeouts last sesaon, fired a nifty three-hitter, blanking the San Francsico Giants and Juan Marichal 1-0 in 10 innings. Cloninger was sharp too, permitting just two hits as Milwaukee beat Cincinnati 4-2.

And Stengel's Mets are in their accustomed spot at the bottom of the standings after a four-hit, 6-1 defeat by Los Angeles' Don Drysdale who poked a two-run homer for good measure.

Veale Shuts Out Giants In 1-0 Win

In other National League openers, the world champion St. Louis Cardinals battled 11 innings and had to settle for a 10-10 tie with the Chicago Cubs in a game called because of darkness and Philadelphia and Houston played the first regular season game inside the Houston Astrodome with Chris Short firing a four-hitter and the Phillies blanking the Astros 2-0.

Home runs played an important role in all of the National League games.

Veale escaped two early jams before settling down to his duel with San Francisco's Marichal. Bob Bailey's leadoff homer in the 10th broke it up. Bailey's shot was only the fifth Pirate hit.

In the fourth, Willie Mays singled and moved to second on a wild pitch. After Veale, who struck out 10 and walked just one, fanned Jim Ray Hart and got Willie McCovey on a pop, Jesus Alou got what was to be the Giants' last hit. But Mays had to holt at third on the throw to the plate and then Veale struck out Tom Haller, ending the inning.

Veale finished up by retiring the last 19 men in order until Bailey's shot won it.

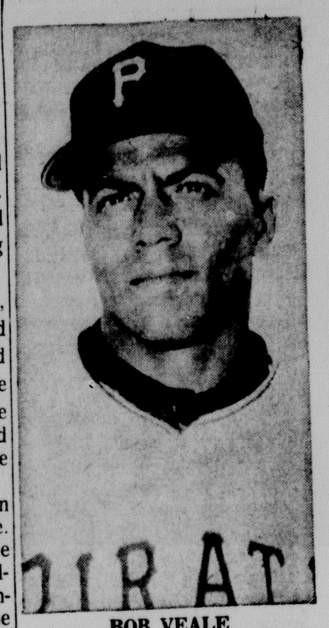

Cloninger allowed a leadoff single to Cincinnati's Pete Rose and a sixth-inning homer to Deron Johnson but that was all. The Braves, meanwhile, hopped on Jim O'Toole with Joe Torre and Ed Mathews socking back-to-back homers to key the attack. Torre, who also homered in the eighth, followed Mathews' sixth-inning shot with one of his own. Felipe Alou had opened the inning with a single and rode home on Mathews' homer, the 446th of Eddie's career.

The Mets were two runs behind before they came to bat against Drysdale. Drysdale hit a two-run homer in the fourth and Willie Davis poked a bases-empty shot among his three hits. It was the 14th time Drydle had beaten the Met in their four years in the league and the fourth straight opening-day loss for New York.

The Cardinals jumped on Larry Jackson for five runs in the first inning but World Series hero Bob Gibson faltered and couldn't hold the lead. St. Louis was still ahead 9-6 with two out in the ninth when reliever Tracy Stallard walked Ron Santo and gave a single to George Altman. Barney Schultz came on and Ernie Banks tied it with a long home run.

Both teams scored in the 11th, St. Louis on three singles and Chicago on a single, a passed ball and Santo's double, before the umpires called it. The game went into the books as a tie and must be replayed later in the season.

Short struck out 11 Astros in baseball's first indoor game. Richie Allen, last year's Rookie of the Year, produced both Philadelphia runs with a third-inning home run, and Short, the left-hander who won 17 games last year, made them stand up.

Twins Nip Yanks After Comedy Of Errors In Opener

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

At least Charlie Finley advertised HIS circus.

New York and Minnesota kept theirs a secret until just before game time.

A multitude of errors and wild pitches following a flood-forced helicopter ride heavily punctuated Minnesota's 11-inning 5-4 opening-game victory over the Yankees Monday.

Finley's follies, flavoring Detroit's 6-2 triumph over Kansas City at night, included Charles O's trot around the bases on Charlie O. plus a menagerie of pigeons, pheasants and a chick. Out flew four pigeons and two pheasants.

Several innings later, in the seventh and eighth to be exact, two-run homers by Jerry Lumpe and rookie John Sullivan flew out of the park, and Charlie O's debut was a failure.

The Twins-Yankees game was only slightly less comical. Even before the contest started, Minnesota officials decided today's game would be postponed because of travel difficulties resulting from flood conditions.

Those conditions forced the airlifting of four Twins, including starting pitcher Jim Kaat, from the suburb of Burnsville, where they live, to the park. A helicopter picked them up in a school yard and dropped them in a parking lot.

Both teams might have been better off if the flood had inundated Metropolitan Stadium. The Yankees made five errors and the Twins committed three while New York pitchers contributed three wild pitches.

The most dramatic miscues came in the ninth and 11th innings. With two out in the Yankee ninth and the Twins leading 4-3, rookie third baseman Cesar Tovar dropped Joe Pepitone's easy pop-up, and pinch runner Arturo Lopez raced home from second with the tying run.

Tovar and Lopez exchanged places in the Twins' 11th. Lopez, also a rookie, opened the inning by misjudging, then dropping Bob Allison's fly ball for a three-base error. Two intentional walks and two outs later, Tavor rapped a single to center for the game-winning run.

Boston smashed six homers against the Senators, Lennie Green leading the attack with two. Tony Conigliaro, Felix Mantilla and Lee Thomas each contributed one while Don Lock and Ken McMullen connected for the Senators.

In the only other American League game, Boston whipped Washington 7-2 in the presidential opener. Rain washed out Cleveland at Los Angeles while Chicago and Baltimore were idle.

The highlight of the circus preceding the Kansas City game started when Charlie O. the mule plodded into the spotlight.

Finley, the A's uninhibited owner, climbed aboard the team's new mascot and began a tour of the base paths. As they reached second base and home plate, Charlie Sr. waved his white cowboy hat to the assembled audience.

When Charlies O. ended their duet, Miss U.S.A. took over in the center ring. Shapely Bobbi Johnson threw out the first ball, then played batgirl for the first two innings.

The game finally started but wasn't more than a half-inning old when plate umpire Bill McKinley stepped on a button which raises the automatic ball dispenser behind home plate.

Bernie Allen Placed On Disabled List

Bernie Allen, East Liverpool's major leaguer with the Minnesota Twins, has been placed on the 30 - day disabled list. Allen has been slow to recover from surgery on his knee performed last December. He was the Twins' regular second baseman last season, before being sidelined with a leg injury in midseason.

NCAA Places 3 Colleges On Probation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The NCAA is imposing fewer probation penalties each year for football recruiting violations and to Art Bergstrom, this means the enforcement program he heads is a success.

"Coaches in the field tell me the climate is different — much better than it was several years ago," Bergstrom said. He is an assistant to the NCAA director and serves as secretry to the infractions committee.

The new climate was emphasized Monday when the NCAA council simply reaffirmed earlier actions by the Southwest Conference. The council placed Southern Methodist, Texas and Arkansas on probation, imposing penalties in football identical to those dealt by the SWC in 1964.

SMU was placed on two-year probation and prohibited from playing in post-season bowl games. The penalties against Arkansas and Texas were much less severe — one-year probation with no ban on bowl play.

The Texas and SMU probations date from May 9, 1964, the Arkansas probation from Dec. 12, 1964. These are the dates the SWC took action.

The NCAA council completed its three-day meetings by terminating the two-year probation against Hardin-Simmons and lifting one-year probations against Kentucky, Slippery Rock (Pa.) State and Prairie A&M of Texas.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Bob Veale, Pittsburgh, hurled a three-hitter, striking out 10 and walking only one in the Pirates' 10-inning 1-0 victory over San Francisco.

BATTING — Richie Allen, Philadelphia, clouted a two-run homer that gave the Phillies a 2-0 triumph over Houston.

Attendance Falls Slightly Under Last Year's Mark

By The Associated Press

Approximately 3,000 fewer persons per game turned out for baseball's opening-day games Monday than did for the first games last year.

A total of 234,109 saw the eight games played. A ninth contest, Cleveland at Los Angeles was rained out. Baltimore and the Chicago White Sox were not scheduled.

The average paid attendance for the games was 29,264. An average crowd of 32,344 saw the openers in 1964.

Largest paid crowd of the day — 43,554 — was at Washington where Boston helped the Senators get the season started. A total attendance of 48,546 was reported at Houston for the first official league game under the Astrodome, but the paid crowd numbered 42,652.

Koufax Expects To Hurl In Regular Turn Sunday

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Koufax, the mystery man of the Los Angeles Dodgers, expects to take his regular pitching turn Sunday in Philadelphia.

After a three-inning test run at Washington Sunday in which Sandy struck out five batters, there was no recurrence of the swollen elbow that sent him home from spring training.

The troublesome left elbow, which had puffed up to grapefruit size after his last outing in Florida, was packed in ice for 20 minutes after his trial in Washington. Earlier in Los Angeles he had been given a cortisone injection.

"I am going to try a new system," said the personable Dodger left who could be the greatest pitcher in modern-day baseball.

"I am going to leave out throwing between games, once I get back in regular turn. I may have to do a little throwing Friday because it will be so long between starts.

"All I know is that I have traumatic arthritis. I'll have to play it by ear as I go along. The arm felt fine in Florida but the day after I pitched the last time down there I couldn't straighten out my arm. I decided to go home and find out what it was. At least the arthritis is all in one spot and not all through my system.

"The way I felt Sunday I wished that I had tried to pitch sooner."

Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers naturally was relieved.

"Sandy will be in there as often as he is ready to pitch," said Alston. "Nobody can tell how often that will be except Sandy. Whether it's once a week or every fourth day we'll be glad to have him."

Koufax, only 29, led the National League with a 1.75 earned run average last season but fell short of a 20-win season with a 19-5 record. The same elbow trouble, not then diagnosed as arthritis, forced him to miss several turns and put him out of action from mid-August on.

In 1963, Sandy was everybody's "pitcher of the year" with a 25-5 record and a strikeout record in the World Series sweep over the New York Yankees.

Bailey's Late Blast Puts Bucs On Top

Veale Shuts Out Giants In 1-0 Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was opening day but Pittsburgh's Bob Veale, Milwaukee's Tony Cloninger and Casey Stengel's New York Mets were in midseason form.

Veale, the tall Pirate lefthander who led baseball's major leagues with 250 strikeouts last sesaon, fired a nifty three-hitter, blanking the San Francsico Giants and Juan Marichal 1-0 in 10 innings. Cloninger was sharp too, permitting just two hits as Milwaukee beat Cincinnati 4-2.

And Stengel's Mets are in their accustomed spot at the bottom of the standings after a four-hit, 6-1 defeat by Los Angeles' Don Drysdale who poked a two-run homer for good measure.

In other National League openers, the world champion St. Louis Cardinals battled 11 innings and had to settle for a 10-10 tie with the Chicago Cubs in a game called because of darkness and Philadelphia and Houston played the first regular season game inside the Houston Astrodome with Chris Short firing a four-hitter and the Phillies blanking the Astros 2-0.

Home runs played an important role in all of the National League games.

Veale escaped two early jams before settling down to his duel with San Francisco's Marichal. Bob Bailey's leadoff homer in the 10th broke it up. Bailey's shot was only the fifth Pirate hit.

In the fourth, Willie Mays singled and moved to second on a wild pitch. After Veale, who struck out 10 and walked just one, fanned Jim Ray Hart and got Willie McCovey on a pop, Jesus Alou got what was to be the Giants' last hit. But Mays had to holt at third on the throw to the plate and then Veale struck out Tom Haller, ending the inning.

Veale finished up by retiring the last 19 men in order until Bailey's shot won it.

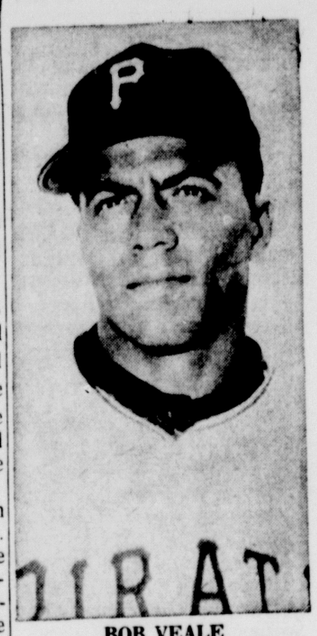

Cloninger allowed a leadoff single to Cincinnati's Pete Rose and a sixth-inning homer to Deron Johnson but that was all. The Braves, meanwhile, hopped on Jim O'Toole with Joe Torre and Ed Mathews socking back-to-back homers to key the attack. Torre, who also homered in the eighth, followed Mathews' sixth-inning shot with one of his own. Felipe Alou had opened the inning with a single and rode home on Mathews' homer, the 446th of Eddie's career.

The Mets were two runs behind before they came to bat against Drysdale. Drysdale hit a two-run homer in the fourth and Willie Davis poked a bases-empty shot among his three hits. It was the 14th time Drydle had beaten the Met in their four years in the league and the fourth straight opening-day loss for New York.

The Cardinals jumped on Larry Jackson for five runs in the first inning but World Series hero Bob Gibson faltered and couldn't hold the lead. St. Louis was still ahead 9-6 with two out in the ninth when reliever Tracy Stallard walked Ron Santo and gave a single to George Altman. Barney Schultz came on and Ernie Banks tied it with a long home run.

Both teams scored in the 11th, St. Louis on three singles and Chicago on a single, a passed ball and Santo's double, before the umpires called it. The game went into the books as a tie and must be replayed later in the season.

Short struck out 11 Astros in baseball's first indoor game. Richie Allen, last year's Rookie of the Year, produced both Philadelphia runs with a third-inning home run, and Short, the left-hander who won 17 games last year, made them stand up.

Twins Nip Yanks After Comedy Of Errors In Opener

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

At least Charlie Finley advertised HIS circus.

New York and Minnesota kept theirs a secret until just before game time.

A multitude of errors and wild pitches following a flood-forced helicopter ride heavily punctuated Minnesota's 11-inning 5-4 opening-game victory over the Yankees Monday.

Finley's follies, flavoring Detroit's 6-2 triumph over Kansas City at night, included Charles O's trot around the bases on Charlie O. plus a menagerie of pigeons, pheasants and a chick. Out flew four pigeons and two pheasants.

Several innings later, in the seventh and eighth to be exact, two-run homers by Jerry Lumpe and rookie John Sullivan flew out of the park, and Charlie O's debut was a failure.

The Twins-Yankees game was only slightly less comical. Even before the contest started, Minnesota officials decided today's game would be postponed because of travel difficulties resulting from flood conditions.

Those conditions forced the airlifting of four Twins, including starting pitcher Jim Kaat, from the suburb of Burnsville, where they live, to the park. A helicopter picked them up in a school yard and dropped them in a parking lot.

Both teams might have been better off if the flood had inundated Metropolitan Stadium. The Yankees made five errors and the Twins committed three while New York pitchers contributed three wild pitches.

The most dramatic miscues came in the ninth and 11th innings. With two out in the Yankee ninth and the Twins leading 4-3, rookie third baseman Cesar Tovar dropped Joe Pepitone's easy pop-up, and pinch runner Arturo Lopez raced home from second with the tying run.

Tovar and Lopez exchanged places in the Twins' 11th. Lopez, also a rookie, opened the inning by misjudging, then dropping Bob Allison's fly ball for a three-base error. Two intentional walks and two outs later, Tavor rapped a single to center for the game-winning run.

Boston smashed six homers against the Senators, Lennie Green leading the attack with two. Tony Conigliaro, Felix Mantilla and Lee Thomas each contributed one while Don Lock and Ken McMullen connected for the Senators.

In the only other American League game, Boston whipped Washington 7-2 in the presidential opener. Rain washed out Cleveland at Los Angeles while Chicago and Baltimore were idle.

The highlight of the circus preceding the Kansas City game started when Charlie O. the mule plodded into the spotlight.

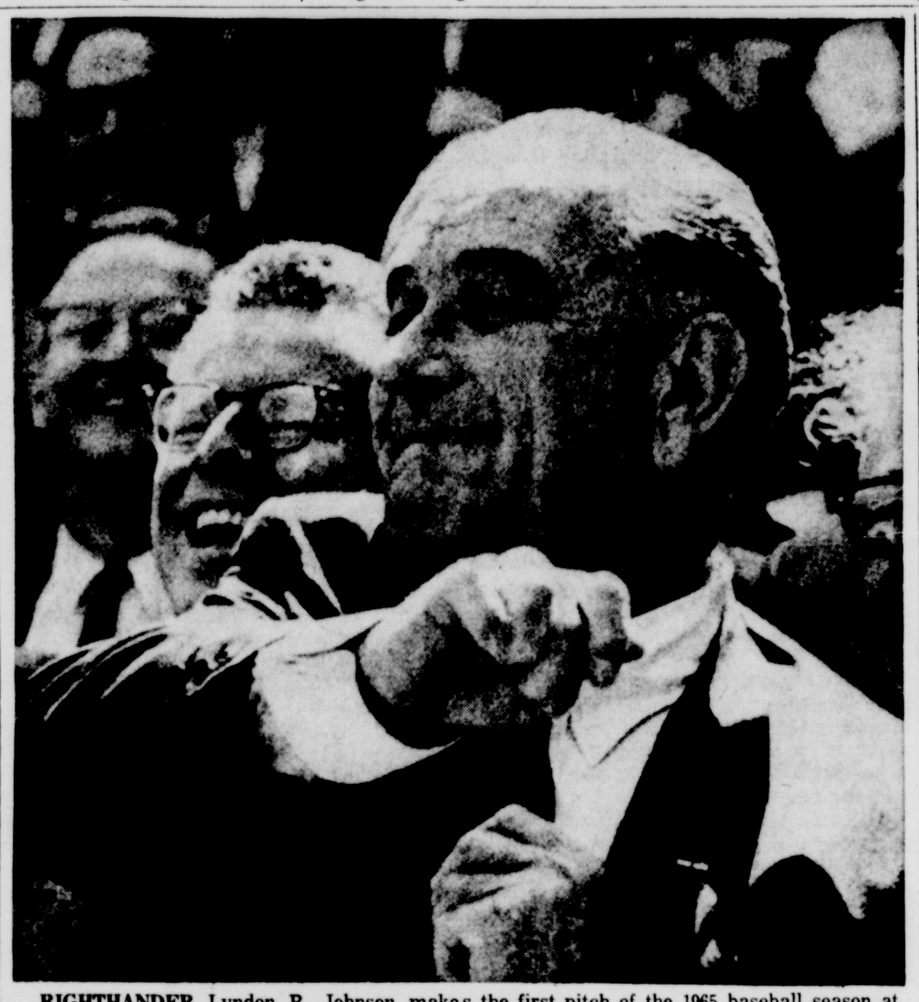

Finley, the A's uninhibited owner, climbed aboard the team's new mascot and began a tour of the base paths. As they reached second base and home plate, Charlie Sr. waved his white cowboy hat to the assembled audience.

The game finally started but wasn't more than a half-inning old when plate umpire Bill McKinley stepped on a button which raises the automatic ball dispenser behind home plate.

Bernie Allen Placed On Disabled List

Bernie Allen, East Liverpool's major leaguer with the Minnesota Twins, has been placed on the 30 - day disabled list. Allen has been slow to recover from surgery on his knee performed last December. He was the Twins' regular second baseman last season, before being sidelined with a leg injury in midseason.

RIGHTHANDER Lyndon B. Johnson makes the first pitch of the 1965 baseball season at D.C. Stadium Monday as the Washington Senators opened against the Red Sox. The Senators failed to win for the president dropping a 7-2 verdict. (UPI Telephoto)

Coach Of 7-1 Cage Star Takes Holy Cross Post

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP — Jack Donohue, coach of schoolboy sensation Lew Alcindor at New York's Power Memorial High School, has signed as head basektball coach at Holy Cross.

Holy Cross Athletic Director Gene Flynn announced the signing Monday and said: "This was not a package deal. Lew Alcindor's name did not come up in any of our talks with Donohue."

The 7-foot-1 Alcindor led Power to 71 straight victories on the way to three consecutive Catholic high school city championships in New York.

Donohue, 33, has carefully kept Alcindor screened from scouts and newsmen, but it is believed as many as 70 colleges have sent offers to the giant schoolboy.

Donohue in his 11 years as coach at Power and Tolentine High School in the Bronx compiled a 250-46 record. At Holy Cross he succeeds Frank Oftring Jr., who resigned April 1 after a 13-10 season.

Leafs, Hawks On Home Ice In Cup Games

By The Associated Press

If Toronto's plodding power play and Chicago's sputtering Scooter don't come alive tonight there may be no tomorrow for the Maple Leafs and Black Hawks in the National Hockey League playoffs.

The Leafs and Hawks, one step from elimination in their Stanley Cup semifinal rounds against Montreal and Detroit, respectively, have one advantage — home ice — and several problems in tonight's sixth games.

The Canadiens and Red Wings each have a 3-2 margin in the best-of-7 sets. Home teams have won every game.

Of primary concern to Toronto pilot Punch Imlach Monday was an attack that has produced only two goals in 11 tries when penalties left Montreal shorthanded. In contrast, eight of the Canadiens' 13 goals in the series came on power plays.

Chicago Coach Billy Reay, meanwhile, worried about NHL scoring king Stan Mikita's failure to penetrate Detroit defenses. The sparkplug of the Hawks' normally productive Scooter Line has only one goal and three assists in the series.

Norm Ullman has fired five goals for the Red Wings.

The other Chicago pivotmen — Phil Esposito and Fred Stanfield — also have scored only one goal apiece. Although Bobby Hull has picked up the slack with a seven-goal barrage, Reay is counting on more help from his centers — particularly Mikita — in what he hopes will be a seven-game showdown.

Baltimore, 76ers Face Must Games

By The Associated Press

The short odds are great, the long odds murderous for Philadelphia and Baltimore in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The 76ers entertain the Boston Celtics and the Bullets host the Los Angeles Lakers tonight in the sixth games of best-of-7 semifinal series. If form holds up, there will be a seventh game in each set — and the 76ers and Bullets will be in big trouble.

The Celtics, bidding for a ninth consecutive Eastern Division playoff title, hold a 3-2 edge over the 76ers. The Lakers have the same margin over the Bullets in the Western Division finals.

While precedent is with Philadelphia and Baltimore tonight — nobody has been able to win on the road in either series — it is even more squarely against them in the long run. Only twice has a team been down 2-3 and come back to capture a semifinal set. The St. Louis Hawks did it in 1960 and again in 1961.

Reports Hint Taft May Oppose Gilligan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reliable reports here indicate Robert Taft Jr. is being considered as the Republican candidate in 1966 against Democratic Rep. John J. Gilligan in Ohio's first district.

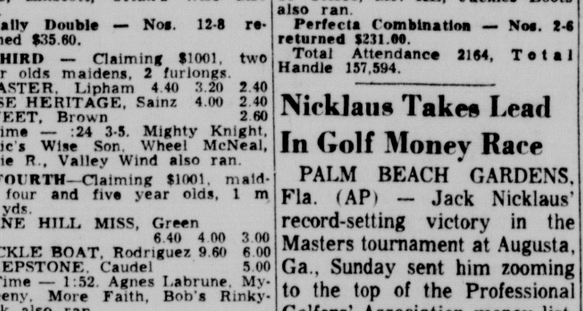

The Cincinnati Republican was Ohio congressman-at-large in the 88th Congress. He was defeated in his attempt last year to unseat Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young.

Coach Of 7-1 Cage Star Takes Holy Cross Post

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP — Jack Donohue, coach of schoolboy sensation Lew Alcindor at New York's Power Memorial High School, has signed as head basektball coach at Holy Cross.

Holy Cross Athletic Director Gene Flynn announced the signing Monday and said: "This was not a package deal. Lew Alcindor's name did not come up in any of our talks with Donohue."

The 7-foot-1 Alcindor led Power to 71 straight victories on the way to three consecutive Catholic high school city championships in New York.

Donohue, 33, has carefully kept Alcindor screened from scouts and newsmen, but it is believed as many as 70 colleges have sent offers to the giant schoolboy.

Donohue in his 11 years as coach at Power and Tolentine High School in the Bronx compiled a 250-46 record. At Holy Cross he succeeds Frank Oftring Jr., who resigned April 1 after a 13-10 season.

Leafs, Hawks On Home Ice In Cup Games

By The Associated Press

If Toronto's plodding power play and Chicago's sputtering Scooter don't come alive tonight there may be no tomorrow for the Maple Leafs and Black Hawks in the National Hockey League playoffs.

The Leafs and Hawks, one step from elimination in their Stanley Cup semifinal rounds against Montreal and Detroit, respectively, have one advantage — home ice — and several problems in tonight's sixth games.

The Canadiens and Red Wings each have a 3-2 margin in the best-of-7 sets. Home teams have won every game.

Of primary concern to Toronto pilot Punch Imlach Monday was an attack that has produced only two goals in 11 tries when penalties left Montreal shorthanded. In contrast, eight of the Canadiens' 13 goals in the series came on power plays.

Chicago Coach Billy Reay, meanwhile, worried about NHL scoring king Stan Mikita's failure to penetrate Detroit defenses. The sparkplug of the Hawks' normally productive Scooter Line has only one goal and three assists in the series.

Norm Ullman has fired five goals for the Red Wings.

The other Chicago pivotmen — Phil Esposito and Fred Stanfield — also have scored only one goal apiece. Although Bobby Hull has picked up the slack with a seven-goal barrage, Reay is counting on more help from his centers — particularly Mikita — in what he hopes will be a seven-game showdown.

Baltimore, 76ers Face Must Games

By The Associated Press

The short odds are great, the long odds murderous for Philadelphia and Baltimore in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The 76ers entertain the Boston Celtics and the Bullets host the Los Angeles Lakers tonight in the sixth games of best-of-7 semifinal series. If form holds up, there will be a seventh game in each set — and the 76ers and Bullets will be in big trouble.

The Celtics, bidding for a ninth consecutive Eastern Division playoff title, hold a 3-2 edge over the 76ers. The Lakers have the same margin over the Bullets in the Western Division finals.

While precedent is with Philadelphia and Baltimore tonight — nobody has been able to win on the road in either series — it is even more squarely against them in the long run. Only twice has a team been down 2-3 and come back to capture a semifinal set. The St. Louis Hawks did it in 1960 and again in 1961.

Bickel Retained As Teacher But Not As Principal

The Wellsville Board of Education Monday night voted not to rehire Lester Bickel, principal of the McKinley and Hillcrest-Fairview Schools, in an administrative capacity for the coming fall term.

The action was termed necessary by Russell Dysert, board president, because of "gross insubordination" on the part of Bickel. The board noted he will be retained as a teacher.

—:—

THE ACTION came after a rather stormy session attended by a large delegation.

The recommendation for the action was made by Supt. Lowell Myers. It was adopted by a 3-1 vote, with Mrs. Margaret Lloyd, board member, dissenting. Favoring the action was Dysert, William Ferrall and Daniel MacLean. Dr. Janis Lauva, vice president, was absent.

The recommendation was incorporated in a motion by Ferrall, seconded by MacLean. It stated that "the clerk-treasurer be authorized to notify Lester Bickel, principal of McKinley and Fairview Schools and supervisor of transportation, that he will not be re-employed as an administrator in any capacity for the 1965-1966 school year."

The board held a brief caucus session before opening its regular meeting, then voted to adjourn to the health room so the large crowd could be accommodated.

Listed on the agenda was a recommendation of transfer of administrators between the Garfield and McKinley - Fairview buildings.

—:—

THE MEMBERS of the delegation said they were present to discuss this proposal. One group represented Garfield School and the other the Fairview School. Both groups indicated they did not favor the transfer of principals. Samuel Linger is the Garfield administrator.

Dysert commented he was pleased to see the group and said he would allow Myers to explain the move.

Myers explained that the board had agreed to the transfer about three weeks ago at a meeting held to discuss the school building program. At this point Mrs. Lloyd stated she had not agreed to such action, but had said that she would withhold her decision until later.

Myers continued that Bickel had been informed of the proposal and had called a staff meeting of his teachers and announced he was being transferred against his wishes. "He then requested and was granted a meeting with me," Myers said.

DURING THIS meeting, Bickel asked if anything should be said at the forthcoming Parent-Teacher meeting, Myers continued. He said he suggested that nothing be made public. Myers said the matter was made known at the PTA meeting, however, and he received letters and telephone calls from residents of both Garfield and Hillcrest.

Myers said Bickel informed him a year ago that he was unhappy with his duties as bus supervisor and was told that a transfer would be considered. Bickel then changed his mind and said he did not want to change, Myers explained.

Dysert said he was aware of Bickel being unhappy with having the job of supervising bus schedules and the action of transfer was proposed to relieve the situation.

Ferrall and Dysert both commented there were many things that cannot be made public, nor should be aired publicly. Ferrall said the superintendent should be backed on his recommendations.

CHARGES came from the delegation that there were personality conflicts between the superintendent and Bickel. Board members and Myers declared it was a conflict of authority, not of personalities.

After hearing both sides, including the Garfield group's objection to losing Linger, the board announced it would go back to its regular meeting room to continue with the business, during which a decision would be reached.

A petition was presented containing 72 names asking Bickel be kept on at Fairview.

The board adjourned to the meeting room, held a brief executive session, and then discovered most of the delegation had remained to heard the board's action.

The meeting was moved back to the health room and the regular agenda followed.

When it came to the recommendations on the transfer, Myers asked that Linger be retained as principal at Garfield. The board approved. He then made the recommendation that Bickel not be given any other administrative positions. The board approved.

The board continued with its business as most of the audience remained. At the end, three men from the Hillcrest area were still present. They asked for an explanation and attempted to question Myers and board members as to specific charges against Bickel. The board members said they had reason enough for their action and would not air personalities in public.

OEA Snubs Plan Aimed At Likely 'Loyalty Oaths'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education has rejected a proposal aimed at the possibility of requiring teachers to sign loyalty oaths before receiving teaching certificates.

The board, by a vote of 17-4, defeated a motion Monday by member Francis Gaul of Cleveland to set up a committee to look at teacher licensing provisions with an eye to making sure that the "children of Ohio be placed in the hands of loyal Americans."

The motion stemmed from the recent expulsion of a Cleveland teacher for writing articles for a publication of a Black Nationalist organization advocating Negro revolution in the United States.

"Problems of this type should be handled by local boards of education," said Lorin E. Bixler, New Concord. "It was handled admirably in Cleveland, the very place it should be handled."

Teacher Resigns At Midland High

The Midland Board of Education Monday night accepted the resignation of Mrs. Grace McCarty, French and Spanish teacher at Lincoln High School, effective at the end of the term.

Mrs. McCarty cited health reasons for giving up her duties.

—:—

MISS Bernice Coffin, secretary of the board, was authorized to advertise bids for janitorial and school supplies for next term and the Midland Junior Women's Club was granted a request to conduct a physical fitness class each Thursday night in the new gym, in addition to the Monday evening programs the club now offers.

A request from the Wellsville volunteer fire department, for the Midland High School band to participate in a homecoming parade on Sept. 3, was tabled until assurances are received from the department for transportation of the students.

A request of Junior Class to hold the Junior - Senior prom May 28 in the new gymnasium rather than the old gym, as in the past, was denied.

—:—

EDWARD Cilli, president, recommended the approval, explaining "we have a beautiful new gym, and I think it should be used."

However, during discussion of the request, several board members cited reasons for refusing and the motion for denial was passed.

A request from the Midland Education Association for liability insurance coverage was referred to the finance committee for study.

The board received a check for $258 from the Midland Band Boosters Club towards the purchase of new majorette uniforms.

The secretary and president were authorized to negotiate a loan of $50,000, when needed, to meet current operating expenses.

—:—

A SURVEY of various items needed at the football field, submitted by Samuel Rosatone, supervisor of maintenance, was referred to the property committee for study, and was a proposed change in lighting in front of the administration building, submitted by Supt. Edgar Richards.

The property committee, at the suggestion of Leslie Roach, board member, was also instructed to investigate the topping and trimming of several trees in the school area.

The secretary was instructed to send a letter of congratulations to basketball coach "Hank" Kuzma, his staff and team for their fine season and for winning the state PIAA championship.

—:—

A LETTER was read from Kuzma, thanking the superintendent and board members for their co-operation during the season. Several letters of congratulation and praise of the coaches and team were received from the school boards of Western Beaver, Monaca and Middletown Area.

Cilli declared the "boys were fine ambassadors of the school and community and we are as proud of their ability off of the court as well as on."

Members were reminded of the annual banquet with the faculty April 28 at Deramo's Restaurant.

A request of the Library Board to purchase books in the amount of $252.63 was approved.

The report of Mrs. Eldame Castelli, treasurer, was ordered filed, as was the tax collector's report.

—:—

CASH receipts totaling $923.10 were received and placed in accounts, and general bills in the amount of $9,900 were ordered paid.

Ice Jams Crumble On Mississippi

Minnesota Flood Likely To Be More Widespread

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Ice jams on tributaries and on the Mississippi River north of the Twin Cities began crumbling today, releasing impounded waters on flooded sections of southern Minnesota.

The Minnesota flooding, which has made more than 20,000 homeless and caused more than $20 million damage, was expected to become more widespread.

At St. Paul, where the Mississippi has been channeled between dikes that reach 28 feet, the river started to rise sharply late Monday when ice jams 50 to 60 miles northward began breaking up.

The river at St. Paul stood at 22.75 feet early today and Civil Defense officials estimated it would rise to 25 feet by noon today. It is expected to crest at 27 to 27.5 feet Friday, just under the top of the dike.

The Crow River flooded Monday at St. Cloud, north of the Twin Cities, and an ice jam at Coon Rapids on the Mississippi broke up with tremendous force late in the day.

The Mississippi began to rise in Minneapolis early today toward its expected crest of 21 feet Wednesday. Several low-lying industrial areas in the north and northeastern sections of the city were expected to be flooded.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag, who Saturday asked that 39 Minnesota counties be designated disaster areas, added five counties to this group Monday because rivers in the western and northwestern portions of the state had begun flooding and causing evacuation.

A Civil Defense official said the release of water held back by ice jams in the north probably will cause "a foot to a foot and a half more of water downstream than we had in the 1952 flood."

At Chaska, southwest of the Twin Cities, the Minnesota River had flooded nearly the entire town of 2,500 persons. The water level held steady at 34 feet today. The predicted crest was 34.5 feet.

The Minnesota meets the Mississippi River near Savage. Although portions of this town of 1,200 were under water, a dike was expected to be strong enough to hold back the Minnesota's threats.

Downstream from the Twin Cities, the Mississippi was causing only little flooding mostly because dike work was well advanced when the river began to rise last week.

OEA Snubs Plan Aimed At Likely 'Loyalty Oaths'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education has rejected a proposal aimed at the possibility of requiring teachers to sign loyalty oaths before receiving teaching certificates.

The board, by a vote of 17-4, defeated a motion Monday by member Francis Gaul of Cleveland to set up a committee to look at teacher licensing provisions with an eye to making sure that the "children of Ohio be placed in the hands of loyal Americans."

The motion stemmed from the recent expulsion of a Cleveland teacher for writing articles for a publication of a Black Nationalist organization advocating Negro revolution in the United States.

"Problems of this type should be handled by local boards of education," said Lorin E. Bixler, New Concord. "It was handled admirably in Cleveland, the very place it should be handled."

Board Grants Leave

Teacher Resigns At Midland High

The Midland Board of Education Monday night accepted the resignation of Mrs. Grace McCarty, French and Spanish teacher at Lincoln High School, effective at the end of the term.

Mrs. McCarty cited health reasons for giving up her duties.

—:—

MISS Bernice Coffin, secretary of the board, was authorized to advertise bids for janitorial and school supplies for next term and the Midland Junior Women's Club was granted a request to conduct a physical fitness class each Thursday night in the new gym, in addition to the Monday evening programs the club now offers.

A request from the Wellsville volunteer fire department, for the Midland High School band to participate in a homecoming parade on Sept. 3, was tabled until assurances are received from the department for transportation of the students.

A request of Junior Class to hold the Junior - Senior prom May 28 in the new gymnasium rather than the old gym, as in the past, was denied.

—:—

EDWARD Cilli, president, recommended the approval, explaining "we have a beautiful new gym, and I think it should be used."

However, during discussion of the request, several board members cited reasons for refusing and the motion for denial was passed.

A request from the Midland Education Association for liability insurance coverage was referred to the finance committee for study.

The board received a check for $258 from the Midland Band Boosters Club towards the purchase of new majorette uniforms.

The secretary and president were authorized to negotiate a loan of $50,000, when needed, to meet current operating expenses.

—:—

A SURVEY of various items needed at the football field, submitted by Samuel Rosatone, supervisor of maintenance, was referred to the property committee for study, and was a proposed change in lighting in front of the administration building, submitted by Supt. Edgar Richards.

The property committee, at the suggestion of Leslie Roach, board member, was also instructed to investigate the topping and trimming of several trees in the school area.

The secretary was instructed to send a letter of congratulations to basketball coach "Hank" Kuzma, his staff and team for their fine season and for winning the state PIAA championship.

—:—

A LETTER was read from Kuzma, thanking the superintendent and board members for their co-operation during the season. Several letters of congratulation and praise of the coaches and team were received from the school boards of Western Beaver, Monaca and Middletown Area.

Cilli declared the "boys were fine ambassadors of the school and community and we are as proud of their ability off of the court as well as on."

Members were reminded of the annual banquet with the faculty April 28 at Deramo's Restaurant.

A request of the Library Board to purchase books in the amount of $252.63 was approved.

The report of Mrs. Eldame Castelli, treasurer, was ordered filed, as was the tax collector's report.

—:—

CASH receipts totaling $923.10 were received and placed in accounts, and general bills in the amount of $9,900 were ordered paid.

Ice Jams Crumble On Mississippi

Minnesota Flood Likely To Be More Widespread

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Ice jams on tributaries and on the Mississippi River north of the Twin Cities began crumbling today, releasing impounded waters on flooded sections of southern Minnesota.

The Minnesota flooding, which has made more than 20,000 homeless and caused more than $20 million damage, was expected to become more widespread.

At St. Paul, where the Mississippi has been channeled between dikes that reach 28 feet, the river started to rise sharply late Monday when ice jams 50 to 60 miles northward began breaking up.

The river at St. Paul stood at 22.75 feet early today and Civil Defense officials estimated it would rise to 25 feet by noon today. It is expected to crest at 27 to 27.5 feet Friday, just under the top of the dike.

The Crow River flooded Monday at St. Cloud, north of the Twin Cities, and an ice jam at Coon Rapids on the Mississippi broke up with tremendous force late in the day.

The Mississippi began to rise in Minneapolis early today toward its expected crest of 21 feet Wednesday. Several low-lying industrial areas in the north and northeastern sections of the city were expected to be flooded.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag, who Saturday asked that 39 Minnesota counties be designated disaster areas, added five counties to this group Monday because rivers in the western and northwestern portions of the state had begun flooding and causing evacuation.

A Civil Defense official said the release of water held back by ice jams in the north probably will cause "a foot to a foot and a half more of water downstream than we had in the 1952 flood."

At Chaska, southwest of the Twin Cities, the Minnesota River had flooded nearly the entire town of 2,500 persons. The water level held steady at 34 feet today. The predicted crest was 34.5 feet.

The Minnesota meets the Mississippi River near Savage. Although portions of this town of 1,200 were under water, a dike was expected to be strong enough to hold back the Minnesota's threats.

Downstream from the Twin Cities, the Mississippi was causing only little flooding mostly because dike work was well advanced when the river began to rise last week.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't consider me crazy for asking you this but I need help badly and you are my only hope. My mother is bald. My father has a very heavy head of hair. My older brother rapidly is losing his hair and soon will be bald like my mother.

I'm a circus acrobat. Hanging by my hair is part of my act. My hair seems to be the same heavy type that father has, but at times I become depressed worrying about the possibility that perhaps my hair will fall out like my mother's.

Should I change professions before it is too late? Thank you for your kind consideration. —WORRIED.

Dear Worried: Don't be a coward and change professions, even if you should detect signs of baldness. Stick with it. Bill yourself as the world's only balding acrobat who hangs by his hair.

And please — don't chicken out and use a net. I'd like to get rid of you characters who write phony letters — and the sooner the better.

Age Of Innocence?

Dear Ann: Easter soon will be here and I would like to express my views on something that has been bothering me since last year when I attended an Easter Sunday brunch at the home of friends.

These friends have three children under 6 years of age. As an Easter gift the parents gave their youngsters some baby chicks dyed shades of pink, blue and green. The children were squeezing, choking and torturing the baby chicks without realizing what they were doing.

The 2-year-old threw the little pink chick against the wall as if it were a rubber ball. The mother picked the chick up and said quietly, "You mustn't do that, dear." She gave the chick back to the child, who proceeded to choke it. I could not bear to watch any longer so I left.

Please, Ann, say something in your column about giving very young children live pets to play with. — S.O.S.

Dear S.O.S.: Dyeing and selling baby chicks is illegal in some states. (Illinois for one.) The penalty, however, is not stiff enough to deter a pet shop owner who wants to engage in the practice. The law reads: "A fine of not less than $5 and not more than $200, and confiscation of the chicks."

The Anti - Cruelty Society would like to discourage the sale of chicks as toys. Aside from the fact that most youngsters unwittingly abuse them, chicks need warmth (about 90-degree temperature) and most homes are too cold for their survival.

Widow's Spite?

Dear Ann: My uncle was buried last Thursday. When I tell you we have at least 100 relatives in this town I'm not exaggerating.

This uncle was a nice person and everyone liked him. His wife is a living, breathing chunk of ice who could hold a convention of all her friends in a telephone booth.

After the funeral my husband and I went to the cemetery and then home. We learned the next day the whole crowd was invited to my aunt's house for dinner. We were the only ones who weren't there. I'm very put out. Why would she do this? Even in her grief she managed to insult me. Please comment. — PUT OUT.

-:-

Dear Out: Relatives and close friends customarily gather at the home of the bereaved after a funeral. It is not a party. Nobody gets invited. They just go.

Relatives, friends and neighbors usually assume the responsibility of bringing, preparing and serving the food. Your letter is a good example of how people sometimes blame others when the fault lies with themselves.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Russo-American Track Meet

ABC-TV will try to get the Kremlin to approve of live television coverage via satellite of the 1965 Russo-American track meet to be held in Moscow next summer.

Richard Doan

If the project materializes, it could be the first live transatlantic telecast to originate from the Soviet. The undertaking was disclosed by Thomas W. Moore, sports - minded president of ABC-TV.

-:-

HE CONCEDED there were many hurdles to clear, the first being the successful launching of Comsat's Early Bird.

Granted use of the satellite for the occasion, the network must not only get Kremlin approval, but overcome the difference in line systems between Russian and U.S. television.

The track meet will take place in Moscow's Lenin Stadium on Saturday, July 31, and Sunday, Aug. 1, the events being run off from 4 to 6 p.m., Moscow time. A live telecast would reach American shores in midmorning New York time.

-:-

ELABORATING on the ABC plans, Bob Trachinger, director of operations for ABC Sports, said:

"We're going to use slow-motion, stop-frame and 'isolated-camera' techniques in covering the meet, and we'd like to transmit as much of this live as we possibly can, if the Russians will allow it. We hope the Russians will see the creative aspects of it and cooperate.

"If we can't use Early Bird, we'll set up a fast jet arrangement to rush the tapes to New York."

This will be the fifth year ABC has covered this annual sports event, held alternately in the U.S. and Russia. Last year's meet took place in Los Angeles. Two years ago ABC shipped four tape machines to Moscow to cover the competition.

-:-

"I'M JUST DOING my job," Barbra Streisand's press agent insisted.

"He's trying to raise a false issue," a CBS spokesman retorted.

The "issue": did CBS object to the amount of Miss Streisand's bare back showing in a backless gown she modeled for her forthcoming CBS special?

The firm of Solters, O'Rourke, & Sabinson, publicizing the "Funny Girl" star, got out a story saying the singer had taped a scene for her April 28 show at a swank dress house on 5th Ave. and one of the B-G creations she tried on before the cameras "met with objections from the CBS board of program practices."

The account carefully avoided saying the network had deleted the scene, but suggested that the "objection" might have risen from the way she let a sable fur "slip seductively to the floor while singing an old torch song with a 'stripper' beat."

-:-

BARBRA, the story tittered, wanted to know: "Can a simple, fun-loving girl from Brooklyn be too sexy for TV?"

"For heaven's sake," a CBS publicist exploded when informed of the story, "the scene wasn't cut out. We're even servicing the same picture of her her press agent sent out!"

Even so, quibbled Lee Solters, the said agent, a CBS censor on the scene," raised a question" about the amount of bare Streisand showing in the high-style gown. And that, Solters said he felt, made the story legitimate.

"I'm just doing my job," he observed, as if this needed pointing out.

The CBS program practices man was just doing his job, too, if he raised a question, the network sources came back, but obviously he didn't scissor the act. So what's the excitement about?

-:-

ANYHOW, said one CBS flack, doing his job, "the really interesting thing is that Miss Streisand models a classy wardrobe she says cost her a quarter of a million dollars."

For the record, the producers of Miss Streisand's show "took over" the fashionable dress shop a week ago Sunday for a taping session which began at 11:30 a.m. and ended at 3:30 a.m. Monday.

The sequence will occupy about half of the hour-long program later this month. The remainder of the show will be taped in a studio next Wednesday.

The whole show will be a solo performance by the 22-year-old singing star.

Damage Over $50,00 In Fire At Boardman

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated unofficially at $50,000 to $100,000 Monday night at the Boardman Lumber and Supply Co. in suburban Boardman. About 75 firemen from Boardman Township, New Middletown, Poland and Canfield fought the fire for an hour before bringing it under control.

Three firemen were treated at a hospital for smoke inhalation. Wind gusts up to 30 miles per hour fanned the flames, causing them to spread to a nearby house, which was destroyed.

Council Asks State Aid For Lisbon Work

LISBON — Village Council enacted a resolution Monday night requesting State Highway Department aid in a summer blacktop program for resurfacing of four thoroughfares that are part of the state highway system.

The resolution, to be sent to the Division 11 Highway Department office in New Philadelphia, will request the state to make the Lisbon project part of its summer program.

Council sought aid in resurfacing: E. Lincoln Way west of Jefferson St.; W. Lincoln Way west of Beaver St.; W. Washington St. from S. Market St. to the village limits on Route 164, and N. Market St. from Washington St. north to the city limits on Route 45.

It was estimated the village share of the project would be less that $5,000.

Robert William, president of the Chamber of Commerce, appeared before Council asking that it consider a program to annex territory to the vilage and suggested a federally-supported project for extension of water and sewer services as a way of encouraging annexation.

Williams said he will confer with the Board of Public Affairs to find if the village can obtain U.S. funds for the water and sewer program. He said the village has not grown in recent years and blamed the static situation in part on the lack of village utilities.

Quicksall Associates of New Philadelphia, an engineering concern, is checking to find if the village may obtain federal aid for the water and sewer projects as a prelude to annexation, Williams said. He asked Council to continue an investigation of annexaiton "to help give Lisbon a better image as a growing town."

Council took under advisement a lone bid filed last night on purchase of a new police cruiser. Lehman Ford Sales offered the new auto at a net price of $1,680. The gross offer was $2,833, less a $1,153 allowance for a 1953 model Dodge.

Council referred the offer to the police committee to check and determine if the vehicle fits specifications. The committee will report at the next meeting.

Council approved purchase of a new emergency light for the cruiser at a cost of $70. The members authorized purchase of six uniforms for village firemen at a cost of $202.50 and eight pairs of boots at a cost of $145. Council also discussed a request for $135 for a fire department radio, but no action was taken pending word on the availability of the equipment.

There was a discussion on improvements at Village Hall, on which $1,000 has been spent to date. Members decided that the ceiling should be lowered in the Council chamber and it should be painted. More improvements may be authorized when funds are available, councilmen said.

The police headquarters and the mayor's office — also used by the Chamber of Commerce— have been improved at a cost of 1,000, as most of the work was done by police and other volunteer workers. The work in the Council chamber is estimated to cost $700.

Council also discussed street signs for the village, opening an alley north of Memorial Stadium and a request from the Junior Chamber of Commerce to erect a pole building on property owned by the village near the Sadie VanFossan Memorial Swimming Pool. No action was taken on any of the projects.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Chair-Sitting Penalty Very Effective

Recently a good many letters have come from parents stating that chair-sitting punishment works. One mother wrote: "Your chair - sitting punishment works like magic with my youngest child three years old. Wish I had known about it when my other children were little." Some others write as if this means of controlling young children is a new discovery. Yet from time immemorial mothers have resorted to such measures of restraint, just hitting on them as a practical procedure.

Dr. Garry Myers

A former newspaper editor once told me that the punishment by his mother he dreaded most when he was eight or ten years old was to be tied to the bedpost with a thread. That way had the merit of letting the mother know if he had left the restraining place.

—:—

LOTS OF mothers have sent a child to another room for punishment. Sometimes it works well, sometimes it doesn't. The child may find ways of amusement there or engage in more mischief.

Then there's the dark closet into which young children have been placed, putting terror into the hearts of many of them. If the closet had ample light and air, it might have good effect and be safe from fears. But as practiced, it usually is a barbarous punishment.

An occasional mother ties her child securely fast to a certain place for punishment. Often this is torturous procedure and so unnecessary. Or the child may be required to stand in a corner or face the wall for punishment. This is relatively hard to enforce and is a physically tiresome experience for the child, though sometimes effective.

When in contrast, the youngster must sit in a chair or on a box or step of the stairway for a definite period, doing nothing, unamused, where you can see him, he gets effective discomfort from this restraint.

I FIRST saw a mother use this type of punishment when I was in my early teens and was so impressed with its merits that I resolved then to use it if I ever became a parent; and I did. Over the many years I have been writing this column, I have been urging mothers to resort to it as soon as the tot has learned the unambiguous meaning of "no." I have not seen it elsewhere described or recommended in print.

It's very simple and easy to administer if the parent has good self-control and is consistent. When, for example, the tot five or seven repeats a forbidden act, she assigns him to sit in a certain chair where she can see him, unamused, doing nothing—for fifteen minutes for the child three, thirty minutes for the child seven. She doesn't need to hold him there or stand over him.

If he has learned to respect her NO said once, he won't venture to get down before the time is up. In case he leaves the chair too soon, she spanks him soundly. When she is consistent, it works like magic. Thereafter, physical punishment can be abandoned.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "Love and Restraint," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Full Production Seen This Week For Vindicator

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Full production is expected this week at the Youngstown Vindicator following a 238-day strike.

Local 11 of the American Newspaper Guild today will sign a contract with the newspaper. The pact, which expires next March, was unanimously approved by about 80 guildsmen Monday night.

Editorial schedules are to be worked out Wednesday.

The newspaper, after discussions Monday with Local 200, International Typographical Union, also agreed to recall all 100-members.

The union had charged that because of automatic equipment installed during the strike the newspaper planned to recall only 60 ITU members.

A spokesman at the Vindicator said "We expect to be in full production the latter part of this week. We don't know for sure yet because there are still some things to be cleared up."

The Guild struck Aug. 18 in a dispute over a contract for 42 outside circulation department employes, who had been carried as independent contractors for about 10 years. The initial contract for the circulation employes expires in March, the same time as the Guild's.

The company agreed Monday to recall all ITU employes by Thursday.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Chair-Sitting Penalty Very Effective

Recently a good many letters have come from parents stating that chair-sitting punishment works. One mother wrote: "Your chair - sitting punishment works like magic with my youngest child three years old. Wish I had known about it when my other children were little." Some others write as if this means of controlling young children is a new discovery. Yet from time immemorial mothers have resorted to such measures of restraint, just hitting on them as a practical procedure.

Dr. Garry Myers

A former newspaper editor once told me that the punishment by his mother he dreaded most when he was eight or ten years old was to be tied to the bedpost with a thread. That way had the merit of letting the mother know if he had left the restraining place.

—:—

LOTS OF mothers have sent a child to another room for punishment. Sometimes it works well, sometimes it doesn't. The child may find ways of amusement there or engage in more mischief.

Then there's the dark closet into which young children have been placed, putting terror into the hearts of many of them. If the closet had ample light and air, it might have good effect and be safe from fears. But as practiced, it usually is a barbarous punishment.

An occasional mother ties her child securely fast to a certain place for punishment. Often this is torturous procedure and so unnecessary. Or the child may be required to stand in a corner or face the wall for punishment. This is relatively hard to enforce and is a physically tiresome experience for the child, though sometimes effective.

When in contrast, the youngster must sit in a chair or on a box or step of the stairway for a definite period, doing nothing, unamused, where you can see him, he gets effective discomfort from this restraint.

I FIRST saw a mother use this type of punishment when I was in my early teens and was so impressed with its merits that I resolved then to use it if I ever became a parent; and I did. Over the many years I have been writing this column, I have been urging mothers to resort to it as soon as the tot has learned the unambiguous meaning of "no." I have not seen it elsewhere described or recommended in print.

It's very simple and easy to administer if the parent has good self-control and is consistent. When, for example, the tot five or seven repeats a forbidden act, she assigns him to sit in a certain chair where she can see him, unamused, doing nothing—for fifteen minutes for the child three, thirty minutes for the child seven. She doesn't need to hold him there or stand over him.

If he has learned to respect her NO said once, he won't venture to get down before the time is up. In case he leaves the chair too soon, she spanks him soundly. When she is consistent, it works like magic. Thereafter, physical punishment can be abandoned.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "Love and Restraint," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Full Production Seen This Week For Vindicator

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Full production is expected this week at the Youngstown Vindicator following a 238-day strike.

Local 11 of the American Newspaper Guild today will sign a contract with the newspaper. The pact, which expires next March, was unanimously approved by about 80 guildsmen Monday night.

Editorial schedules are to be worked out Wednesday.

The newspaper, after discussions Monday with Local 200, International Typographical Union, also agreed to recall all 100-members.

The union had charged that because of automatic equipment installed during the strike the newspaper planned to recall only 60 ITU members.

A spokesman at the Vindicator said "We expect to be in full production the latter part of this week. We don't know for sure yet because there are still some things to be cleared up."

The Guild struck Aug. 18 in a dispute over a contract for 42 outside circulation department employes, who had been carried as independent contractors for about 10 years. The initial contract for the circulation employes expires in March, the same time as the Guild's.

The company agreed Monday to recall all ITU employes by Thursday.

Innocent Plea Given In Death Of Ohioan

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—Theodore F. Wilson, 39, of Detroit has pleaded innocent in the death of Raven Shilling of Cincinnati. He entered the plea Monday in Harrison Township Justice of the Peace Court.

Miss Shilling, 29, the former wife of Wilson's brother, was found dead last Monday in a field in Macomb County.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

CINCINNATI (AP) — A suburban Mount Healthy woman, injured Sunday in an auto accident here, died Monday night in Good Samaritan hospital, the coroner's office said. She was Mrs. Ruth Scherder, 43.

FENCE 'EM IN—FENCE 'EM OUT

Do you realize how valuable a fence can be? It can save the lives of your children and pets. If they must play in an area that is not fenced in then you are risking their lives. A fence increases the value of your property. It can provide complete privacy and can be used to close out undesirable views. It can end that squabble between you and your neighbor over property lines. Do you know that a 100 feet of fence costs no more than one months car payment on a new car and yet that fence will outlast that new car by 20 to 25 years. Would you like a fence that never needs painting, posts replaced every few years and is maintenance free? Why don't you frame that picture of your house with a beautiful fence. Think about all this and then decide if you can really afford to be without a fence. Call today and come out and see the finest wire & wooden fences on display.

FENCE 'EM IN—FENCE 'EM OUT

Do you realize how valuable a fence can be? It can save the lives of your children and pets. If they must play in an area that is not fenced in then you are risking their lives. A fence increases the value of your property. It can provide complete privacy and can be used to close out undesirable views. It can end that squabble between you and your neighbor over property lines. Do you know that a 100 feet of fence costs no more than one months car payment on a new car and yet that fence will outlast that new car by 20 to 25 years. Would you like a fence that never needs painting, posts replaced every few years and is maintenance free? Why don't you frame that picture of your house with a beautiful fence. Think about all this and then decide if you can really afford to be without a fence. Call today and come out and see the finest wire & wooden fences on display.

HERE'S HOW PLYMOUTH'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential and rear wheel bearings. Required maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Today is Tuesday, April 13, the 103rd day of 1965. There are 262 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1743, Thomas Jefferson, the third president, was born at Shadwell, Va. Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence, and was directly responsible for the Louisiana Purchase of 1803.

On this date

In 1818, the U.S. flag, as approved by Congress, was first raised over the House of Representatives.

In 1870, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York was incorporated.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt dedicated the Jefferson Memorial in Washington.

In 1945, a funeral train bore President Roosevelt's body to Washington from Warm Springs, Ga., as President Harry S. Truman called a joint session of Congress.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower approved an agreement to share atomic weapons information with members of NATO.

Five years ago—A navigation satellite, the Transit 1B was sent into orbit from Cape Canaveral.

One year ago—Sidney Poitier became the first Negro to win a Hollywood Oscar, awarded for his performance in "Lilies of the Field."

A Junior Editors Quiz About IRON CURTAIN

QUESTION: Is the Iron Curtain really made of iron?

ANSWER: We think of a thing made of iron as being solid, hard, rigid, immovable. This is what Sir Winston Churchill meant when in 1946 he spoke of an "iron curtain" descending across Europe. He did not mean that an actual wall of iron had been built, but that Communist Russia was cutting off the countries on her western border, which she had seized and over-run, from any communication or trade with the free world countries. The phrase was so apt and descriptive that soon people spoke of formerly free countries, such as Czechoslovakia, now controlled by the Communists, as countries "behind the Iron Curtain." Later, the Iron Curtain came to mean all the barriers against travel and communication Russia has set up between herself and the free world.

Another telling phrase is the "Cold War." This means the present struggle between nations, such as the U. S., who believe the state should exist for the benefit of the individual, and the opposing communist nations who downgrade the individual for the benefit of the state. It is a "cold" war because we are not fighting each other with weapons, which would make it a "hot" war.

FOR YOU TO DO: To the right of the Iron Curtain we show the names of six cities, these being capitals of countries controlled by Russia, often spoken of as Russian satellite countries. Locate these capitals on an atlas — finding out the names of the countries as well.

Later, the Iron Curtain came to mean all the barriers against travel and communication Russia has set up between herself and the free world.

Another telling phrase is the "Cold War." This means the present struggle between nations, such as the U. S., who believe the state should exist for the benefit of the individual, and the opposing communist nations who downgrade the individual for the benefit of the state. It is a "cold" war because we are not fighting each other with weapons, which would make it a "hot" war.

FOR YOU TO DO: To the right of the Iron Curtain we show the names of six cities, these being capitals of countries controlled by Russia, often spoken of as Russian satellite countries. Locate these capitals on an atlas — finding out the names of the countries as well.

After The Resurrection: Triumph Followed Despair

Choosing Replacement For Judas

The weeks following the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Christ were a trying time for His disciples. They confronted entirely unexpected circumstances. Nothing had turned out as they had anticipated. The foundations of their hopes had collapsed. Following is the second in a five - part series about that anxious period.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
A.P. Religion Writer

Toward evening they gathered in a large private house in the westerly Upper City of Jerusalem.

They came singly and in little groups, slipping cautiously into the walled courtyard. They came listening, watching, afraid.

The way of Jesus had become a dim, vertiginous passage.

A great hulk of a man, Simon Peter, sat at the foot of an outside stone stairway, his weather-toughened gaze registering each new arrival. They were desperate men, every one, but they also were the stout-hearted.

Seven weeks had elapsed since the Master died.

EVENTS during that period had alternately shocked, thrilled and staggered his followers.

At least eight times, the risen Jesus had been seen by individuals or groups, in a garden, by Cleopas and Simon on a road, by the Apostles in a bolted room, on a mountaintop, by a few, by many, once by 500 simultaneously.

At one point, Peter himself had gone back to resume his fishing trade in Galilee, only to be confronted on a misty morning shore by Jesus, and a solemn charge: "Feed My sheep!" The Apostle had returned to Jerusalem to do it.

But a sense of helplessness lay heavy on them all. The days dragged on.

Now, out at the foregate of the house in Jerusalem, Matthew and Nathanael stood watch, welcoming the companions with a kiss of peace. Sighing, Peter got to his feet. To the west, above the wall, the last streaks of sun slid away.

PETER SHOOK his head dourly. They might wait a long while before they saw the Lord again. "It is not for you to know the times or the seasons. . ." the resurrected Jesus had said.

Yet they still looked for Him to return at once, banishing the Roman intruder and assuming earthly government.

Up to the end, just before He left them for the last time there on the mountain, they still insisted, "Lord, will You at this time restore the kingdom to Israel?" Rejecting that purpose, He nonetheless said:

"But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be My witnesses. . .to the end of the earth."

It had been 49 days since He rose. Nine days had passed since His last farewell on the mountain. The Apostles since had dwelt in the cenacle, the large upper room of the widow's house, closeted from roving vigilantes.

Kinsmen of Jesus, His mother and other close consorts also had taken refuge there. They and the Apostles had prayed diligently, in one accord, but without apparent effect.

ROVING ABOUT the lamplit courtyard, Peter counted 120. Only these remained of the multitudes that once had rallied to Jesus.

And questions lined their brows. Fear pinched their voices. "What news hast thou? . . .Neighbors set forward our calamity."

To be sure there was cause for uneasiness. The land seethed with clandestine societies, some fanatically violent. Caesar's militia and the collaborationist Sadducean hierarchy combined to crush these dissident movements.

Peter sent the widow's young son, John Mark, to fetch Matthew and Nathanael from the gate for the business at hand. In the distance, cries of the Roman guard posted for the night's first watch threaded along the city wall.

"Brethren," Peter began. They shuffled closer, their dark upturned faces converging below him. They might well be disappointed at his purpose. It could do little to dispel their shrinking inertia.

"Brethren, the Scripture had to be fulfilled. . .concerning Judas who was guide to those who arrested Jesus. . .It is written in the book of Psalms, 'Let his habitation become desolate and his office let another take.' "

The betrayer, Judas Iscariot, guilt - striken by his deed, had hanged himself, and after his shunned body burst, it was buried in potter's field. Refilling the ranks of the 12 would be a mere organizational matter.

BUT IT WAS something, better than standing still. Peter gazed about the shadowy crowd, waiting for a name to be put forward. It had to be someone from among the 70 Jesus had chosen personally to share his ministry.

"Joseph!" a voice rang out. "Joseph surnamed Justus!"

Peter nodded. Matthew took his stylus and scratched the name on a clay fragment and dropped it into a beaker. After a time, another candidate was called out. "Matthias, the gift of Jehovah."

A second potsherd, inscribed with the new name, was dropped into the beaker. Peter took the vessel. The whole company joined in prayer. "Lord, who knowest the hearts of all men, show which one of these two thou hast chosen. . ."

Peter dropped to one knee, jogging the beaker up and down until one ostrakon jounced out of it. He picked it up, squinting at the letters. "Matthias, the gift of Jehovah," he announced.

Once more, the Apostles were 12. Somehow, by that step, Peter felt that the hard, dreary waiting had dissolved into a new stage. They had made a decision. They had done something, however slight. They had begun to act.

The 12 climbed to their lodgings in the upper room and spread their rugs about the floor. But none slept. A restless animation pervaded them, and they gave themselves over to prayer.

"OH LORD. . .cause Thy face to shine upon us. . .that Thy way may be known upon earth. . ." They prayed until dawn began silvering the walls of the upper room.

It was sunrise of Shabout, celebrating the moment when God blazed His law into the rock of Mt. Sinai, a time of thanksgiving, of inbringing of the first fruits, the 50th day after Passover — Pentecost!

"And when the day of Pentecost was fully come. . ." Scripture recounts, "suddenly there came a sound from Heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost. . ."

The time of waiting was over. The moratorium of the spirit had ended. They were ready now. They could go to work.

McDonald Step Seen If He Loses

New Election Demands Feared Steel Talks Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — High administration officials reportedly fear that vital steel industry labor negotiations, rapidly approaching a May 1 contract deadline, will be snarled by demands for a new election for the union's presidency.

Informed sources report strong signs that President David J. McDonald of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers of America will seek a new election if he loses his re-election bid to the union's secretary-treasurer, I. W. Abel.

Unofficial tallies have put Abel ahead. The official vote is still being tabulated.

The sources say McDonald's supporters have been dropping strong hints to government officials that he will seek a new election under federal labor law if the official vote count goes against him.

The union is scheduled to report the official vote count May 1, the day major steel industry contracts expire.

Under the union's constitution, the winner will take office June 1.

Labor Department representatives at the invitation of both sides, have been observing the vote count but have emphasized no action is presently in the works that could lead to a recount.

Although government spokesmen won't comment publicly, high officials watching the steelworkers' election appear to agree with reports indicating Abel will emerge the winner.

If so, administration officials hope McDonald will step down quietly and clear the way for settlement of the contract talks without the confusion of an official election protest.

Another factor of the steel talks reportedly worrying the administration is the joint handling of negotiations by McDonald and Abel.

While the union has indicated some of its demands are expendable, officials here reportedly feel that as long as the two contestants for the union's presidency jointly control the talks there will be a reluctance to pare down bargaining table demands.

Rough estimates of the cost of union demands now on the table figure out to about double the administration's suggested 3.2 per cent wage hike guidelines.

The 3.2 figure is based on estimates by the President's Council of Economic Advisers of the annual productivity increase for U.S. industry as a whole.
